COUNCIL DECISION

on the conclusion of an Additional Protocol adjusting the trade aspects of the Europe Agreement establishing an association between the European Communities and their Member States, acting within the framework of the European Union, of the one part, and the Republic of Slovenia, of the other part, to take account of the outcome of the negotiations between the parties on reciprocal preferential concessions for certain wines and spirits, the reciprocal recognition, protection and control of wine names and the reciprocal recognition, protection and control of designations for spirits and aromatised drinks

(presented by the Commission)

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. The Republic of Slovenia, the other former Yugoslav Republics and Albania (since 2000) benefit from a duty-free access to the EU market for certain wines in the form of a global quota of 545 000 hl. This quota is granted by the European Community by means of an autonomous measure most recently renewed by Council Regulation (EC) No 2007/2000 of 18 September 2000 as amended by Council Regulation (EC) No 2563/2000 of 20 November 2000. Exports of wine from the European Union to the Republic of Slovenia do not benefit from preferential concessions.
2. In a Joint Declaration of Intent between the two parties, attached to the Europe Agreement, signed on 10 June 1996, both Contracting Parties had agreed that “a separate reciprocal Wine Agreement will be negotiated, and concluded in time to enter into force at the same time as the Agreement (Interim Agreement)”.
3. On 17 April 1996, the Council had authorised the Commission to enter into negotiations with the Republic of Slovenia on a separate wine agreement with the following negotiation guidelines for:
  - a bilateral trade agreement on wine providing for reciprocal concessions to distribute the unilateral global quota of 545 000 hl allocated to the states which had previously formed part of the former Socialist Federative Republic of Yugoslavia and Albania,
  - an agreement on reciprocal recognition, protection and control of wine names,
  - an agreement on reciprocal recognition, protection and control of designations of spirits and aromatised drinks.
4. On 2 April 2001 and in accordance with the directives adopted by the Council the Commission and the Republic of Slovenia reached an overall agreement on wine and spirits regarding the new preferential trade regime and the reciprocal protection and control of wine names and spirit designations. It is foreseen that the agreements should enter into force on 1 January 2002. In order to ensure consistency with other applicant countries, the results of these negotiations should be integrated into the framework of the Europe Agreement in the form of an Additional Protocol.
5. The purpose of this proposal is to ask the Council to approve this agreement with the Republic of Slovenia in the form of an Additional Protocol to the Europe Agreement and the measures needed to implement them.
6. The Council is requested to adopt the proposed Decision.

The Commission shall make the necessary amendments and technical adaptations to the implementing Regulations which might result from new preferential agreements, protocols, Exchanges of Letters or other acts concluded between the European Community and the Republic of Slovenia, or which are necessary following the changes to the Combined Nomenclature and Taric codes.

Without prejudice to articles 22 and 23 of the TRIPS Agreement set out in Annex 1C of the Agreement establishing the World Trade Organisation, the Contracting Parties shall take all necessary measures, in accordance with this Annex, to ensure reciprocal protection of the names referred to in Article 5 which are used for the description and presentation of wines originating in the territory of the Contracting Parties. To that end, each Contracting Party shall provide the interested parties with the appropriate legal means to ensure effective protection and prevent geographical indications and traditional expressions from being used to identify wines not covered by the indications or the descriptions concerned.
2. In Slovenia, the protected Community names:
  - (a) are reserved exclusively to the wines originating in the Community to which they apply, and
  - (b) may not be used otherwise than under the conditions laid down in the laws and regulations of the Community.
3. In the Community, the protected Slovenian names:
  - (a) are reserved exclusively to the wines originating in Slovenia to which they apply, and
  - (b) may not be used otherwise than under the conditions laid down in the laws and regulations of the Slovenia.
4. The protection provided for in this Agreement shall prohibit in particular any use of protected names for wines which do not originate in the geographical area indicated or in the place where the expression is traditionally used, and shall apply even when:
  - the true origin of the wine is indicated;
  - the geographical indication in question is used in translation;
  - the name is accompanied by terms such as 'kind', 'type', 'style', 'imitation', 'method' or other expressions of the sort.

- (b) where such indications protected under this Agreement are homonymous with the name of a geographical area outside the territory of the Parties, the latter name may be used to describe and present a wine produced in the geographical area to which the name refers, provided it is traditionally and consistently used, its use for that purpose is regulated by the country of origin and consumers are not misled into believing that the wine originates in the territory of the Party concerned.
- 6. In the case of homonymous traditional expressions:
  - (a) where such expressions protected under this Agreement are homonymous, protection shall be granted to each expression, provided it has been used traditionally and consistently and consumers are not misled as to the true origin of the wine;
  - (b) where such expressions protected under this Agreement are homonymous with the name used for a wine not originating in the territory of the Parties, the latter name may be used to describe and present a wine, provided it is traditionally and consistently used, its use for that purpose is regulated by the country of origin and consumers are not misled into believing that the wine originates in the territory of the Party concerned.
- 7. Each of the Contracting Parties shall, where necessary, lay down the practical conditions of use to enable a distinction to be drawn between the homonymous indications or expressions referred to in paragraphs 5 and 6, bearing in mind the need to treat the producers concerned fairly and to ensure that consumers are not misled.
- 8. The provisions of this Agreement shall in no way prejudice the right of any person to use, in the course of trade, their name or the name of their predecessor in business, except where such name is used in such a manner as to mislead consumers.
- 9. Nothing in this Agreement shall oblige a Contracting Party to protect a geographical indication or traditional expression of the other Contracting Party which is not or ceases to be protected in its country of origin or which has fallen into disuse in that country.

  - or, as the case may be,

2. The measures and proceedings referred to in paragraph 1 shall be taken in particular in the following cases:

  - (b) where descriptions, trade marks, names, inscriptions or illustrations which directly or indirectly give false or misleading information as to the provenance, origin, nature, vine variety or material qualities of the wine appear on containers or packaging, in advertising or in official or commercial documents relating to wines whose names are protected under this Agreement;
  - (c) where, for packaging, containers are used which are misleading as to the origin of the wine.

PRINCIPLES

1. Without prejudice to Articles 22 and 23 of the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights set out in Annex 1C of the Agreement establishing the World Trade Organisation (hereinafter called "the TRIPS Agreement"), the Parties shall take all the necessary measures, in accordance with this Annex, to ensure reciprocal protection of the designations referred to in Article 5 and used to describe spirit and aromatised drinks originating in the territory of the Parties. To that end, each Party shall provide the interested parties with the appropriate legal means for preventing the use of a designation to identify spirit or aromatised drinks not originating in the place indicated by the designation in question or in the place where the designation in question is traditionally used.
2. In Slovenia, the protected Community designations:
  - may not be used otherwise than under the conditions laid down in the laws and regulations of the Community, and
  - shall be reserved exclusively for the spirit and aromatised drinks originating in the Community to which they apply.
3. In the Community, the protected Slovenian designations:
  - may not be used otherwise than under the conditions laid down in the laws and regulations of Slovenia, and
  - shall be reserved exclusively for the spirit and aromatised drinks originating in Slovenia to which they apply.
4. The protection provided for in this Agreement shall prohibit in particular any use of protected designations for spirit and aromatised drinks which do not originate in the geographical area indicated or in the place where the designation is traditionally used, and shall apply even when:
  - the true origin of the spirit and aromatised drinks is indicated;
  - the geographical indication in question is used in translation;
  - the name is accompanied by terms such as 'kind', 'type', 'style', 'imitation', 'method' or other expressions of the sort.

5. In cases of homonymous designations for spirit and aromatised drinks, protection shall be accorded to each designation. The Parties shall lay down the practical conditions under which the homonymous designations in question are to be differentiated from each other, taking into account the need to treat the producers concerned fairly and to avoid misleading the consumer.
6. The provisions of this Agreement shall in no way prejudice the right of any person to use, for trade purposes, their own name or the name of the person whose business they have taken over, provided that such names are not used in a way that misleads consumers.
7. Nothing in this Agreement shall oblige a Party to protect any designation of the other Party which is not protected or ceases to be protected in its country of origin or which has fallen into disuse in that country.
8. The Contracting Parties hereby waive their right to invoke Article 24(4) to (7) of the TRIPS Agreement in order to refuse to grant protection to designations from the other Party.

- (d) as regards aromatised drinks originating in Slovenia, the designations listed in Annex 4.

ARTICLE 6

TRADEMARKS

The registration of a trade mark for a spirit or aromatised drink which contains or consists of a designation as referred to in Article 5 shall be refused or, at the request of an interested party, be invalidated, with respect to such spirits not originating in the place indicated by the designation.
2. Notwithstanding paragraph 1, a trade mark registered in good faith by 31 December 1995 at latest, may be used until 31 December 2005, provided it has been used effectively without interruption since its registration.

EXPORTS

The Parties shall take all measures necessary to ensure that, in cases where spirit or aromatised drinks originating in the territory of the Parties are exported and marketed outside their territory, the designations of one Party protected under this Agreement are not used to designate and present spirit or aromatised drinks originating in the other Party.

ENFORCEMENT

1. If the appropriate competent authority, designated in accordance with Article 11, becomes aware that the description or presentation of a spirit or aromatised drink, in particular on the labelling, in official or commercial documents or in advertising, is in breach of this Agreement, the Parties shall apply the necessary administrative measures and/or shall initiate suitable legal proceedings with a view to combating unfair competition or preventing the wrongful use of the protected designation in any other way.
2. The measures and proceedings referred to in paragraph 1 shall be taken in particular in the following cases:

  - (b) where descriptions, trade marks, words, inscriptions or illustrations which directly or indirectly give false or misleading information as to the origin, nature, material qualities of the spirit or aromatised drink appear on containers or packaging, in advertising or in official or commercial documents relating to designations protected under this Agreement;
