Proposal for a

COUNCIL DECISION

on the signing, on behalf of the European Union, of the Protocol to Eliminate Illicit Trade in Tobacco Products to the World Health Organisation's Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, in so far as the provisions of the Protocol which do not fall under Title V of Part III of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union are concerned

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. CONTEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

The World Health Assembly adopted in 2003 the Framework Convention on Tobacco Control (FCTC), which aims at reducing tobacco-related deaths and diseases around the world in a comprehensive manner. To date the FCTC has been ratified by 176 Parties. The EU concluded the FCTC by Council Decision 2004/513/EC of 2 June 2004 ⁽¹⁾.

The FCTC recognises in its Article 15 that the elimination of illicit trade in tobacco products, including smuggling, illicit manufacturing and counterfeiting, is an essential component of tobacco control, and obliges Parties to adopt and implement effective measures to eliminate illicit trade. Article 33 of the FCTC provides for the possibility for the Conference of the Parties to adopt protocols to the Convention. On the basis of these Articles, the Conference of the Parties (COP) to the FCTC, at its second session in June-July 2007 decided to establish an Intergovernmental Negotiating Body (INB) to negotiate and draft a protocol to eliminate illicit trade in tobacco products (hereinafter referred to as ‘the Protocol’).

The Council authorised the Commission to negotiate the Protocol on behalf of the EU in its Decision of 20 December 2007. This Decision amended the negotiating directives for the FCTC with regard to the Protocol. The directives for the FCTC were adopted by the Council on 22 October 1999 and supplemented on 21 April 2001. After its fifth session, the INB decided to recommend that the draft Protocol on which a consensus was obtained be considered at the fifth COP of the FCTC. Accordingly, the fifth COP held in Seoul, Republic of Korea, adopted the Protocol on 12 November 2012.

According to Article 43, the Protocol is open for signature by the Parties to the FCTC in New York until 9 January 2014. By 10 June 2013, 18 Parties had already signed the Protocol. The EU should sign the Protocol as soon as possible.

The Protocol consists of core provisions on the control of the supply chain of tobacco products and of equipment for manufacturing those products (Part III: Supply Chain Control). It requires the introduction of a licensing, equivalent approval or control system by a competent authority for any natural or legal person involved in the manufacturing and in the import and export of tobacco products and manufacturing equipment (Article 6 – Licensing). It, furthermore, requires all natural and legal persons engaged in the supply chain of tobacco, tobacco products and manufacturing equipment to conduct due diligence with regard to their customers (Article 7 – Due diligence). It provides for the establishment of a global tracking and tracing regime, within five years of the entry into force of the Protocol, consisting of national tracking and tracing systems controlled by the Parties for all tobacco products manufactured in or imported into their territory (Article 8 – Tracking and tracing).

Those articles are complemented by provisions on record-keeping and security and preventive measures, including anti-money-laundering measures, and reporting of suspicious transactions (Articles 9 and 10). Further provisions concern sales by Internet, telecommunication or any other evolving technology (Article 11), duty free sales of tobacco products and the obligation to implement effective controls on tobacco and tobacco products in the free zones, including not mixing tobacco products with non-tobacco products at the time of removal from a free zone (Article 12).

Part IV of the Protocol defines the conduct to be established as unlawful under the Parties’ legislation (Article 14) and obliges the Parties to ensure that natural and legal persons are held liable for such unlawful conduct, including criminal offences (Articles 15 and 16). Further provisions concern seizure payments (Article 17), the handling of confiscated tobacco (Article 18) and special investigative techniques (Article 19). Part V of the Protocol contains provisions for the exchange of relevant information between the Parties (Articles 20 to 22), cooperation and mutual assistance (both administrative and legal in relation to criminal matters – Articles 23 and 24, and Articles 27 to 29), jurisdiction (Article 26) and extradition (Articles 30 and 31).

2. RESULTS OF CONSULTATIONS WITH THE INTERESTED PARTIES

Coordination with Member States throughout the negotiations took place in the Council Working Party on Customs Union and in local coordination meetings during the sessions of the Intergovernmental Negotiating Body and the Intersessional Working Groups.

The European Parliament was informed about the outcome of the negotiations.

3. LEGAL ELEMENTS OF THE PROPOSAL

The Protocol contains a complex set of measures and rules. The main objective of the Protocol is to contribute to the overall tobacco control efforts by combatting all forms of illicit trade in tobacco products and manufacturing equipment. This objective is pursued through several sets of measures which are equally important and complementary to each other. These measures fall into different areas of EU activity which may be subdivided as follows:

- (a) the manufacture, presentation and sale of tobacco (and related) products,
- (b) harmonised taxation and related rules,
- (c) customs controls and cooperation including through mutual administrative assistance in customs matters,
- (d) approximation of criminal offences, judicial cooperation in criminal matters and police cooperation.

Individual provisions usually fall under one or, in a few cases, more of those headings. As a consequence, the EU has external competence to deal with these matters. In some cases this competence is of an exclusive nature, in accordance with Article 3 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union (TFEU).

Regarding heading (a), the Protocol contains provisions covered by EU legislation based on Article 114 of the TFEU. For example, as regards tracking and tracing (Article 8 of the Protocol). Directive 2001/37/EC on the approximation of the laws, regulations and administrative provisions of the Member States concerning the manufacture, presentation and sale of tobacco products² grants power to the Commission to adopt technical measures related to traceability and identification. The Commission presented on 19 December 2012 a proposal to revise that Directive (COM/2012/0788 final — 2012/0366 (COD)). This Commission proposal contains an article on traceability and security features, including provisions on tracking and tracing, and is based on Article 114 of the TFEU. The functioning of the single tracking and tracing mechanisms envisaged in the Directive (and the one proposed by the Commission) could be affected if Member States could individually negotiate tracking and tracing systems. Other measures in the Protocol (sales by internet, telecommunications and other evolving technology: money laundering and cash control) are also covered by EU measures based on Article 114 of the TFEU. The EU shall therefore sign the Protocol on the basis of Article 114 of the TFEU.

Regarding heading (b), the Protocol contains provisions covered by existing EU legislation on indirect taxation, notably licensing, record-keeping, duty free sales, and administrative cooperation based on Article 113 of the TFEU. Certain of these harmonised rules, at least, may be affected by the provisions of the Protocol. Generally speaking, the non-coordinated implementation of the provisions of the Protocol in this area could lead to the malfunctioning of the internal market and to inefficiencies. Article 113 therefore provides a second legal basis for the EU to sign the Protocol.

Regarding heading (c), the Protocol contains the obligation to exercise effective controls in free zones. It prohibits the intermingling of tobacco products with non-tobacco products at the time of removal from free zones. It contains the obligation to apply control and verification measures to the international transit or transshipment of tobacco products and manufacturing equipment. Under EU law, goods brought into the customs territory of the EU (including where transshipment is involved) are, from the time of their entry, subject to customs supervision (Article 37 of the Customs Code³). Under Article 59(1) of that Code, all goods intended to be placed under a customs procedure (including transit) must be covered by a declaration for that procedure. Moreover, control and verification measures in respect of goods coming in the EU from third countries fall within the area of the common commercial policy under Article 207 of the TFEU. The Protocol also contains provisions on international cooperation including mutual administrative assistance (Part V, Articles 20 to 31) which also extend to the customs area. These customs aspects are covered by EU legislation based on Article 33 of the TFEU, insofar as assistance and cooperation between the Member States and between Member States and the Commission is concerned, and on Article 207 of the TFEU, insofar as such assistance or cooperation is to be provided to third countries. Articles 33 and 207 of the TFEU therefore provide a third and a fourth legal basis for the EU to sign the Protocol.

The Protocol also contains provisions on the definition of unlawful conduct that may be established by the Parties either as a non-criminal or as a criminal offence. As far as non-criminal offences are concerned they fall under EU activity in the fields described under headings (a) to (c).

Regarding heading (d), the Protocol contains provisions concerning approximation of criminal offences, law enforcement cooperation and judicial cooperation in criminal matters (respectively Chapters 4 and 5 of Title V of Part III of the TFEU). Title V of Part III of the TFEU is governed by a special regime because Denmark, the United Kingdom and Ireland do not participate in measures under that Title. However, the United Kingdom and Ireland have the possibility to take part in the adoption and application of the measures. Therefore together with this proposal, a separate proposal for a Council Decision is presented on the signing of the Protocol, on behalf of the European Union, in so far as those provisions of the Protocol which fall under Title V of Part III of the TFEU are concerned.

Annex

PROTOCOL TO ELIMINATE ILLICIT TRADE IN TOBACCO PRODUCTS

Preamble

The Parties to this Protocol,

Considering that on 21 May 2003, the Fifty-sixth World Health Assembly adopted by consensus the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, which came into force on 27 February 2005;

Recognizing that the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control is one of the United Nations' most rapidly ratified treaties and a fundamental tool for attaining the objectives of the World Health Organization;

Recalling the Preamble to the Constitution of the World Health Organization, which states that the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health as a fundamental right of every human being without distinction of race, religion, political belief, economic or social condition;

Determined also to give priority to their right to protect public health;

Deeply concerned that the illicit trade in tobacco products is contributing to the spread of the tobacco epidemic, which is a global problem with serious consequences for public health that calls for effective, appropriate and comprehensive domestic and international responses;

Recognizing further that illicit trade in tobacco products undermines price and tax measures designed to strengthen tobacco control and thereby increases the accessibility and affordability of tobacco products;

Seriously concerned by the adverse effects that the increase in accessibility and affordability of illicitly traded tobacco products has on public health and the well-being, in particular of young people, the poor and other vulnerable groups;

Seriously concerned about the disproportionate economic and social implications of illicit trade in tobacco products on developing countries and countries with economies in transition;

Aware of the need to develop scientific, technical and institutional capacity to plan and implement appropriate national, regional and international measures to eliminate all forms of illicit trade in tobacco products;

Acknowledging that access to resources and relevant technologies is of great importance for enhancing the ability of Parties, particularly in developing countries and countries with economies in transition, to eliminate all forms of illicit trade in tobacco products;

Acknowledging also that, although free zones are established to facilitate legal trade, they have been used to facilitate the globalization of illicit trade in tobacco products, both in relation to the illicit transit of smuggled products and in the manufacture of illicit tobacco products;

Recognizing also that illicit trade in tobacco products undermines the economies of Parties and adversely affects their stability and security;

Also aware that illicit trade in tobacco products generates financial profits that are used to fund transnational criminal activity, which interferes with government objectives;

Recognizing that the illicit trade in tobacco products undermines health objectives, imposes additional strain on health systems and causes losses of revenue to the economies of the Parties;

Mindful of Article 5.3 of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control in which Parties agree that in setting and implementing their public health policies with respect to tobacco control, Parties shall act to protect these policies from commercial and other vested interests of the tobacco industry in accordance with national law;

Emphasizing the need to be alert to any efforts by the tobacco industry to undermine or subvert strategies to combat illicit trade in tobacco products and the need to be informed of activities of the tobacco industry that have a negative impact on strategies to combat illicit trade in tobacco products;

Mindful of Article 6.2 of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, which encourages Parties to prohibit or restrict, as appropriate, sales to and/or importation by international travellers of tax- and duty-free tobacco products;

Recognizing in addition that tobacco and tobacco products in international transit and transshipment find a channel for illicit trade;

Taking into account that effective action to prevent and combat illicit trade in tobacco products requires a comprehensive international approach to, and close cooperation on, all aspects of illicit trade, including, as appropriate, illicit trade in tobacco, tobacco products and manufacturing equipment;

Recalling and emphasizing the importance of other relevant international agreements such as the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime, the United Nations Convention against Corruption and the United Nations Convention against Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances and the obligation that Parties to these Conventions have to apply, as appropriate, the relevant provisions of these Conventions to illicit trade in tobacco, tobacco products and manufacturing equipment and encouraging those Parties that have not yet become Parties to these agreements to consider doing so;

Recognizing the need to build enhanced cooperation between the Convention Secretariat of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control and the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, the World Customs Organization and other bodies, as appropriate;

Recalling Article 15 of the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control, in which Parties recognize, inter alia, that the elimination of all forms of illicit trade in tobacco products, including smuggling and illicit manufacturing, is an essential component of tobacco control;

Considering that this Protocol does not seek to address issues concerning intellectual property rights; and

Convinced that supplementing the WHO Framework Convention on Tobacco Control by a comprehensive protocol will be a powerful, effective means to counter illicit trade in tobacco products and its grave consequences,

Hereby agree as follows:

6. Each Party shall ensure that the information recorded under paragraph 5 is accessible by that Party by means of a link with the unique identification markings required under paragraphs 3 and 4.

11. The requesting Party shall not transmit or use information or evidence furnished by the requested Party for investigations, prosecutions or judicial proceedings other than those stated in the request without the prior consent of the requested Party. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the requesting Party from disclosing in its proceedings information or evidence that is exculpatory to an accused person. In the latter case, the requesting Party shall notify the requested Party prior to the disclosure and, if so requested, consult with the requested Party. If, in an exceptional case, advance notice is not possible, the requesting Party shall inform the requested Party of the disclosure without delay.

12. The requesting Party may require that the requested Party keep confidential the fact and substance of the request, except to the extent necessary to execute the request. If the requested Party cannot comply with the requirement of confidentiality, it shall promptly inform the requesting Party.

13. Wherever possible and consistent with fundamental principles of domestic law, when an individual is in the territory of a Party and has to be heard as a witness or expert by the judicial authorities of another Party, the first Party may, at the request of the other, permit the hearing to take place by video conference if it is not possible or desirable for the individual in question to appear in person in the territory of the requesting Party. Parties may agree that the hearing shall be conducted by a judicial authority of the requesting Party and attended by a judicial authority of the requested Party.

14. Mutual legal assistance may be refused:

- (a) if the request is not made in conformity with this Article;
- (b) if the requested Party considers that execution of the request is likely to prejudice its sovereignty, security, ordre public or other essential interests;

- (d) where the request involves a crime where the maximum penalty in the requested Party is less than two years of imprisonment or other forms of deprivation of liberty or, if, in the judgment of the requested Party, the provision of the assistance would impose a burden on its resources that is disproportionate to the seriousness of the crime; or

15. Reasons shall be given for any refusal of mutual legal assistance.

16. A Party shall not decline to render mutual legal assistance under this Article on the ground of bank secrecy.

17. Parties may not refuse a request for mutual legal assistance on the sole ground that the offence is also considered to involve fiscal matters.

18. Parties may decline to render mutual legal assistance pursuant to this Article on the ground of absence of dual criminality. However, the requested Party may, when it deems appropriate, provide assistance, to the extent it decides at its discretion, irrespective of whether the conduct would constitute an offence under the domestic law of the requested Party.

19. The requested Party shall execute the request for mutual legal assistance as soon as possible and shall take as full account as possible of any deadlines suggested by the requesting Party and for which reasons are given, preferably in the request. The requested Party shall respond to reasonable requests by the requesting Party regarding progress in its handling of the request. The requesting Party shall promptly inform the requested Party when the assistance sought is no longer required.

20. Mutual legal assistance may be postponed by the requested Party on the ground that it interferes with an on-going investigation, prosecution or judicial proceeding.

21. Before refusing a request pursuant to paragraph 14 or postponing its execution pursuant to paragraph 20, the requested Party shall consult with the requesting Party to consider whether assistance may be granted subject to such terms and conditions as it deems necessary. If the requesting Party accepts assistance subject to those conditions, it shall comply with the conditions.

22. The ordinary costs of executing a request shall be borne by the requested Party, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties concerned. If expenses of a substantial or extraordinary nature are or will be required to fulfil the request, the Parties shall consult to determine the terms and conditions under which the request will be executed as well as the manner in which the costs shall be borne.

23. In the event of a request, the requested Party:

(a) shall provide to the requesting Party copies of government records, documents or information in its possession that under its domestic law are available to the general public; and

(b) may, at its discretion, provide to the requesting Party in whole, in part or subject to such conditions as it deems appropriate, copies of any government records, documents or information in its possession that under its domestic law are not available to the general public.

24. Parties shall consider, as may be necessary, the possibility of concluding bilateral or multilateral agreements or arrangements that would serve the purposes of, give practical effect to, or enhance the provisions of this Article.

The Parties undertake to include such offences as extraditable offences in every extradition treaty to be concluded between them.

3. If a Party that makes extradition conditional on the existence of a treaty receives a request for extradition from another Party with which it has no extradition treaty, it may consider this Protocol as the legal basis for extradition in respect of any criminal offence to which this Article applies.

4. Parties that do not make extradition conditional on the existence of a treaty shall recognize the criminal offences to which this Article applies as extraditable offences between themselves.

5. Extradition shall be subject to the conditions provided for by the domestic law of the requested Party or by applicable extradition treaties, including, inter alia, conditions in relation to the minimum penalty requirement for extradition and the grounds upon which the requested Party may refuse extradition.

6. Parties shall, subject to their domestic law, endeavour to expedite extradition procedures and to simplify evidentiary requirements relating thereto in respect of any criminal offences to which this Article applies.

7. A Party in whose territory an alleged offender is present, if it does not extradite such person in respect of a criminal offence to which this Article applies solely on the ground that he or she is one of its nationals, shall, at the request of the Party seeking extradition, be obliged to submit the case without undue delay to its competent authorities for the purpose of prosecution. Those authorities shall take their decision and conduct their proceedings in the same manner as in the case of any other offence of a similar nature under the domestic law of that Party. The Parties concerned shall cooperate with each other, in particular on procedural and evidentiary aspects, to ensure the efficiency of such prosecution.

8. Whenever a Party is permitted under its domestic law to extradite or otherwise surrender one of its nationals only upon the condition that the person will be returned to that Party to serve the sentence imposed as a result of the trial or proceedings for which the extradition or surrender of the person was sought and that Party and the Party seeking the extradition of the person agree with this option and other terms that they may deem appropriate, such conditional extradition or surrender shall be sufficient to discharge the obligation set forth in paragraph 7.

9. If extradition, sought for purposes of enforcing a sentence, is refused because the person sought is a national of the requested Party, the requested Party shall, if its domestic law so permits and in conformity with the requirements of such law, upon application of the requesting Party, consider the enforcement of the sentence that has been imposed under the domestic law of the requesting Party or the remainder thereof.

10. Any person regarding whom proceedings are being carried out in connection with any of the criminal offences to which this Article applies shall be guaranteed fair treatment at all stages of the proceedings, including enjoyment of all the rights and guarantees provided by the domestic law of the Party in the territory of which that person is present.

11. Nothing in this Protocol shall be interpreted as imposing an obligation to extradite if the requested Party has substantial grounds for believing that the request has been made for the purpose of prosecuting or punishing a person on account of that person's sex, race, religion, nationality, ethnic origin or political opinions or that compliance with the request would cause prejudice to that person's position for any one of these reasons.

12. Parties may not refuse a request for extradition on the sole ground that the offence is also considered to involve fiscal matters.

13. Before refusing extradition, the requested Party shall, where appropriate, consult with the requesting Party to provide it with ample opportunity to present its opinions and to provide information relevant to its allegation.

14. Parties shall seek to conclude bilateral and multilateral agreements or arrangements to carry out or to enhance the effectiveness of extradition. Where Parties are bound by an existing treaty or intergovernmental arrangement the corresponding provisions of that treaty or intergovernmental arrangement shall apply unless the Parties agree to apply paragraph 1 to 13 in lieu thereof.

Article 31

Measures to ensure extradition

1. Subject to its domestic law and its extradition treaties, the requested Party may, upon being satisfied that the circumstances so warrant and are urgent and at the request of the requesting Party, take a person whose extradition is sought and who is present in its territory into custody or take other appropriate measures to ensure his or her presence at extradition proceedings.

2. Measures taken in accordance with paragraph 1 shall be notified, in conformity with national law, as appropriate and without delay, to the requesting Party.

3. Any person regarding whom the measures in accordance with paragraph 1 are being taken, shall be entitled to:

(a) communicate without delay with the nearest appropriate representative of the State of which that person is a national or, if that person is a stateless person, the State in the territory of which that person habitually resides; and
