Conclusões da análise das propostas legislativas pendentes

COMUNICAÇÃO DA COMISSÃO AO CONSELHO E AO PARLAMENTO EUROPEU

Conclusões da análise das propostas legislativas pendentes

Tal como anunciado na comunicação de 16 de Março de 2005, «Legislar melhor para o crescimento e o emprego na União Europeia»¹, a Comissão decidiu dar um passo importante na forma como pretende garantir o papel da qualidade da legislação comunitária na promoção dos objectivos da parceria para o crescimento e o emprego.

Para aumentar a competitividade europeia, é necessário que a qualidade do quadro legislativo da União Europeia seja a mais elevada possível. Para alcançar este objectivo, é preciso que o acervo comunitário, a legislação vigente, seja simplificado, sempre que necessário, e actualizado. Para este efeito, está prevista uma série de medidas, incluindo, designadamente, o lançamento de uma nova fase do programa de simplificação, em Outubro de 2005.

Além disso, a Comissão decidiu que o conceito «legislar melhor» deve ser integrado na definição das políticas e que as novas propostas legislativas apresentadas pela Comissão devem procurar promover este conceito e contribuir para a competitividade. A aplicação prática deste objectivo implica, nomeadamente, que as novas iniciativas legislativas devam ser submetidas a uma avaliação de impacto, como anunciado no programa legislativo e de trabalho da Comissão para 2005, em relação ao qual foi recentemente adoptado um grande número de directrizes circunstanciadas².

No que respeita às propostas apresentadas pela Comissão no passado e que se encontram pendentes no processo legislativo, a comunicação de Março indicou a intenção de a Comissão «analisar as propostas pendentes no Conselho/Parlamento no que se refere à sua relevância geral, ao seu impacto sobre a competitividade e outros efeitos». Os objectivos, tramitação e conclusões deste exercício de análise, primeiro deste género, são apresentados na presente comunicação.

1. Objectivos da análise das propostas pendentes

O exercício de análise tinha como objectivo permitir que a Comissão passe a garantir que todas as propostas legislativas pendentes sejam plenamente coerentes com as prioridades políticas da Comissão e verificar se a modificação de algumas circunstâncias justificam uma reapreciação da abordagem inicial.

Nos casos em que se considerou necessário uma reapreciação, o exercício de análise identificou igualmente as medidas apropriadas a adoptar, como a alteração, substituição ou retirada das propostas pendentes, bem como uma melhor avaliação do respectivo impacto.

Mais especificamente, o exercício de análise considerou as propostas pendentes em relação a três aspectos:

Em primeiro lugar, as propostas pendentes foram analisadas quanto à sua coerência com os objectivos de Lisboa e, em especial, com o objectivo de promover a competitividade. Os critérios utilizados para avaliar propostas neste âmbito foram os especificados no «teste de competitividade» que faz parte das directrizes para a avaliação de impacto revistas recentemente³.

Em segundo lugar, as propostas pendentes foram analisadas para avaliar a possível ausência de progressos substanciais no processo legislativo durante um período de tempo significativo. Nestes casos, as razões para a lentidão dos progressos e as possibilidades para desbloquear esta situação também foram consideradas.

Em terceiro lugar, as propostas pendentes foram analisadas para determinar se respondem às exigências actuais de «legislar melhor», nomeadamente no que se refere às avaliações de impacto adequadas. Este critério afecta nomeadamente as propostas apresentadas numa altura em que as avaliações de impacto não constituíam uma exigência formal.

2. Tramitação do exercício de análise

Aquando do lançamento do exercício de análise, em Abril de 2005, a totalidade das propostas pendentes ascendia a 489⁴. O exercício definido pela comunicação de Março limitou-se expressamente às propostas pendentes com data anterior a 1 de Janeiro de 2004, que se elevavam a 183.

As propostas em análise foram objecto de uma cuidadosa avaliação. Esta avaliação identificou cerca de 100 propostas que constituem verdadeiramente novas iniciativas legislativas e que foram objecto de uma avaliação mais aprofundada em que foram considerados possíveis efeitos adversos no âmbito da competitividade, bem como efeitos económicos mais vastos. Quanto às restantes propostas, o seu impacto sobre a competitividade parece ser limitado ou inexistente; referem-se principalmente a propostas que decorrem de obrigações internacionais ou que constituem adaptações do acervo ao progresso científico e técnico. Algumas destas propostas também contribuem directamente para «legislar melhor», pois codificam ou simplificam o acervo.

3. Conclusões do exercício de análise

No seguimento de uma análise circunstanciada das propostas pendentes, a Comissão prevê dois vastos tipos de acções:

1) Propostas a retirar: A Comissão pretende retirar no total 68 propostas. Estas propostas são consideradas não coerentes com os objectivos da Lisboa ou com os princípios «legislar melhor», apresentam progressos insuficientes no processo legislativo ou não estão actualizadas⁵ (porque, por exemplo, os objectivos estão a ser, ou serão, alcançados através de outros meios). Algumas destas propostas poderão ser reapreciadas através de uma análise mais aprofundada. Em alguns casos, a Comissão pretende reconsiderar a necessidade de intervenção legislativa à luz de uma avaliação de impacto exhaustiva.

³ Cf. nota de rodapé de página n.º 2.

2) Propostas a manter no processo legislativo, mas sujeitas a uma análise económica a apresentar à autoridade legislativa⁶. Trata-se de 5 propostas que, na opinião da Comissão, continuam a ser importantes, mas em relação às quais um comentário adicional sobre a análise do respectivo impacto pode facilitar a tomada de decisão pela autoridade legislativa.

Desta forma, em consequência da análise da Comissão, cerca de 73 propostas pendentes serão sujeitas a algum tipo de intervenção. São abrangidas propostas que não respondem inteiramente a objectivos de competitividade, em relação às quais se requer que uma análise económica mais aprofundada seja avaliada pelo Legislador, assim como propostas cujo progresso no processo legislativo é insuficiente ou que se tornaram obsoletas.

A retirada de propostas, em especial, representa cerca de 31%⁷ de todas as propostas pendentes anteriores a 1 de Janeiro de 2004. Todas as intervenções, incluindo as propostas que deverão ser objecto de uma análise económica mais aprofundada, representam efectivamente 33%⁸ das propostas pendentes.

Além disso, relativamente a pelo menos duas propostas, o exercício de análise produziu resultados que não se podem incluir directamente nas categorias mencionadas supra. Em primeiro lugar, no que se refere à proposta de directiva do Conselho relativa às prescrições mínimas de segurança e saúde respeitantes à exposição dos trabalhadores aos riscos devidos aos agentes físicos – radiações ópticas (1992/0449/COD), cujo exercício de análise levou a Comissão a concluir que os aspectos que tratam da exposição de trabalhadores à radiação óptica natural deviam ser suprimidos, posição também defendida pelo Parlamento Europeu.

Em segundo lugar, no que se refere à proposta relativa ao trabalho temporário (2002/0072/COD), a Comissão reserva a sua posição, a fim de reconsiderar a proposta à luz de futuros debates sobre outras propostas.

O anexo à presente comunicação resume a situação e fornece pormenores das propostas em questão.

Conclusão

O exercício de análise das propostas pendentes constitui a primeira análise de carácter geral empreendida pela Comissão. É assim demonstrado o compromisso assumido pela Comissão Europeia com a parceria para o crescimento e o emprego e o empenho da Comissão em garantir que os princípios «legislar melhor» sejam aplicados com rigor na prática.

As acções decorrentes do exercício de análise, ou seja, as intervenções previstas em relação às propostas pendentes expostas no anexo, são concebidas para produzir um efeito positivo na resposta aos objectivos de Lisboa, através do apoio à competitividade, do desenvolvimento de um quadro legislativo de melhor qualidade e da retirada de propostas cuja adopção não possa ser realmente perspectivada ou que se tenham tornado obsoletas.

⁷ Num total de 68 propostas retiradas, 12 são propostas adoptadas pela Comissão em 2004.

Em determinados casos, as propostas serão retiradas no contexto de uma revisão geral das políticas comunitárias ou a fim de serem reapreciadas à luz de novos elementos políticos e de uma avaliação de impacto exaustiva.

Em conformidade com os compromissos tomados ao abrigo do Acordo-Quadro sobre as relações entre o Parlamento Europeu e a Comissão (n.º 32), a Comissão deve notificar previamente o Parlamento e o Conselho antes de retirar as suas propostas.
