Proposal for Council Decision establishing a second phase of the programme of incentives, exchanges, training and cooperation for persons responsible for combating trade in human beings and the sexual exploitation of children (Stop II)

(2001/C 96 E/33)

(Submitted by the Commission on 14 December 2000)

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on European Union, and in particular Article 34(2)(c) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission of ... 2000,

Having regard to the opinion of the European Parliament,

Whereas:

(1) Article 29 of the Treaty on European Union states that the Union’s objective is to provide citizens with a high level of safety within an area of freedom, security and justice by developing common action among the Member States in the fields of police and judicial cooperation in criminal matters, and that this objective is to be achieved by preventing and combating trade in human beings and the sexual exploitation of children.

(2) The conclusions of the Tampere European Council call for action against trade in human beings and the sexual exploitation of children.

(3) The nature of the questions addressed makes it essential to have a coordinated, multidisciplinary approach involving the various parties responsible for combating these crimes at European Union level; creating a framework for training, information, study and exchange programmes for persons responsible for combating trade in human beings and the sexual exploitation of children in all its forms is likely to enable these phenomena to be prevented and combated more effectively.

(4) It is important, in view of the international dimension of trade in human beings and sexual exploitation of children, to confront the phenomenon at every stage in the chain: recruiters, transporters, exploiters, other intermediaries and clients.

(5) The Stop programme, set up by Joint Action 96/700/JAI of 29 November 1996 (†), has helped increase awareness within the European Union and step up cooperation between persons in the Member States responsible for combating trade in human beings and the sexual exploitation of children.

(6) The Stop programme has made clear that the European Union’s objectives in combating trade in human beings and the sexual exploitation of children are attained more effectively at European level than by the individual Member States as a result of the exchange of experience, economies of scale and the cumulative impact of the actions undertaken.

(7) The renewal of this programme, expressly envisaged by the Joint Action mentioned above and expressly requested by Parliament in its resolution of 19 May 2000, ‘On Further Actions in the Fight against Trafficking in Women’, will enable this cooperation to be further improved.

(8) It is desirable to ensure continuity for the general and criminal projects supported by the Stop programme and to renew it for a second phase of two years.

(9) The programme’s activities must be tied in with those carried out under the Daphne programme, which aims to combat violence against children, adolescents and women.

(10) It is necessary to take action at Community level to ensure coordination between the projects and facilitate networking between the promoters while respecting the subsidiarity principle.

(11) The Stop programme must be opened up further to the applicant countries by facilitating their participation in the projects supported by the programme.

(12) In accordance with Article 2 of Council Decision 1999/468/EC of 28 June 1999 laying down the procedures for the exercise of implementing powers conferred on the Commission (‡), the measures needed to implement this Decision as referred to in Article 3(1) and the second subparagraph of Article 3(4) should be adopted in accordance with the advisory procedure laid down in Article 3 of Decision 1999/468/EC.

Since the measures needed to implement this Decision as referred to in the first subparagraph of Article 3(4) and the first subparagraph of Article 6(3) are management measures within the meaning of Article 2 of Council Decision 1999/468/EC of 28 June 1999, these measures should be adopted in accordance with the management procedure provided for in Article 4 of the latter Decision,
