EUROPEAN ANTI-FRAUD OFFICE (OLAF)

Publication of a vacancy for a Director function (grade AD 14)

(Article 29(2) of the Staff Regulations)

COM/2012/10324

(2012/C 27 A/02)

We are

... the European Anti-Fraud Office (OLAF). The fight against fraud to the detriment of the European Union's financial interests is central to the credibility of the European project. OLAF is both an investigative service and the Directorate-General of the European Commission responsible for the design and delivery of anti-fraud policy.

The Director-General of OLAF has statutory independence in the conduct of investigations into allegations of fraud and other illegal activities with financial consequences for the European Budget. OLAF’s independent investigation powers extend to all European Union (EU) Institutions and bodies, as well as to economic operators with a relationship with the EU budget both in Member States and in third countries. Outside the operational activities for which OLAF has full independence, OLAF acts like other directorates-general within the European Commission (the Commission) in designing and delivering policies within its area of competence.

A major reorganisation of OLAF will come into effect on 1 February 2012. This is designed to distinguish more clearly between the two core tasks of OLAF, the independent investigative function and the policy function.

Three directorates will concentrate essentially on the investigative function. Two of these will conduct investigations (A and B). The third, Directorate C, will bring together the specialist and other services which provide essential support to the investigative process.

All the Office's policy responsibilities will be handled by a single Directorate, D. Finally, Directorate R will deal with resources.

Directorate C (Investigation Support) will consist of four units:

— Unit C.1 (Investigation Workflow Management) will be responsible for the systems necessary to support investigations including specialised IT systems, document management and management reporting,

— Unit C.2 (Investigation Training and Communication) will handle specialised training for investigation staff and also OLAF’s communication activities which are related, essentially, to OLAF’s independent investigative role. (The OLAF Spokesman will report directly to the Director-General, but will be supported by C.2),

— Unit C.3 (Operational Analysis and Forensics) will provide specialised IT-based operational analysis to complex investigations and also forensic analysis of IT material acquired in the investigative process,

— Unit C.4 (Legal Advice) will provide legal advice on all matters related to OLAF’s operational activities and will handle complaints about OLAF's investigative activities.

The Directorate will have about 80 staff, many of them specialists in the different fields described above. The Director will report directly to the Director-General.

We propose

... the post of Director responsible for providing the strategic orientation and management of the Directorate in accordance with the mission statement and the annual work programme. Directorate C will provide a full range of services in support of OLAF's investigative activities without which the latter cannot function. The objective is to improve the efficiency, effectiveness, speed and quality of the investigative process.
We look for

The ideal candidate should have:

— good general knowledge of the role of OLAF and of the context within which OLAF operates,
— a good understanding of the investigative process in anti-fraud cases and of mechanisms to ensure its efficiency and legality, including operational intelligence,
— good understanding of how IT should support the conduct and management of investigations and contribute to increased efficiency,
— excellent capacity to plan and prioritise,
— a proven record in managing large teams in a complex multi-disciplinary and multi-cultural environment,
— proven leadership skills, capable of motivating staff from a wide variety of professional and national backgrounds,
— sound judgement and the ability to work under pressure,
— excellent drafting and communication skills, including the ability to represent the Office and the Commission at high level, both within the Institutions and externally,
— the capacity to deal with the media (this is however mainly a matter for the Director-General and the Spokesman),
— excellent networking abilities, to develop OLAF’s relationship with its partners in Member States, third countries and international organisations.

Experience in IT management would be an advantage.

An excellent knowledge of English is essential. Other languages would be an advantage.

Appointment and conditions of employment

The Director will be selected and appointed by the Commission according to its selection and recruitment procedures (see also the Compilation Document on Senior Officials Policy (3)). As part of this selection procedure, candidates who have been called for an interview with the Commission’s Consultative Committee on Appointments will have to go through, beforehand, an assessment centre run by external recruitment consultants.

The successful candidate will be recruited as an official at grade AD 14; salaries and conditions of employment are those laid down in the Staff Regulations of Officials of the European Union. Under the Staff Regulations, all new staff have to complete successfully a 9-month probationary period.

The successful candidate may also be required to undergo security vetting on appointment if she or he does not already hold security clearance to an appropriate level.

OLAF will check candidates proposed for interviews against its records.

Equal opportunities

The EU applies an equal opportunities policy.

Application procedure

Before submitting your application, you should carefully check whether you meet all the eligibility criteria (‘Candidates must’), particularly concerning the types of diploma and professional experience required. Failure to meet any of the eligibility requirements means an automatic exclusion from the selection procedure.

If you want to apply, you must register via the Internet by going to the website:

https://ec.europa.eu/dgs/human-resources/seniormanagementvacancies/CV_Encadext and follow the instructions there concerning the various stages of the procedure.

It is your responsibility to complete your online registration in time (4). We strongly advise not to wait until the last few days before applying, since heavy Internet traffic or a fault with your Internet connection could lead to the online registration being terminated before you complete it, thereby obliging you to repeat the whole process. Once the deadline for registration has passed, you will no longer be able to introduce any data. As a general rule, late registrations via normal e-mail are not accepted.

You must have a valid e-mail address. This will be used to identify your registration and to keep you informed of the progress of the selection procedure. Therefore, please inform the Commission of any change in your e-mail address.

To complete your application, you will need to upload a CV in WORD or PDF format and to fill out, online, a letter of motivation (maximum 8 000 characters). Both the CV and letter must be written in English, French or German.

Once you have finished your online registration, you will see on-screen a registration number that you must write down and remember — this will be your reference number in all matters concerning your application. When you receive this number, the registration process is finished — it is a confirmation that we have registered the data you entered. If you do not receive a number, your application has not been registered!

Please note that it is not possible to monitor the progress of your application online. You will be contacted directly by the Commission regarding the status of your application.

The selection process, including correspondence with selection panels during this selection procedure, will be carried out in English, French and/or German only (5).

(4) No later than 12.00, Brussels time, on 29 February 2012.
(5) The selection panels will ensure that no undue advantage is given to native speakers of these languages.
If you have a disability that prevents you from registering online, you may submit your application (CV and letter of motivation) on paper by registered mail (\(\text{\textsuperscript{6}}\)), postmarked no later than the closing date for registration. All subsequent communication between the Commission and you will be by post. In this case, you must enclose with your application a certificate attesting your disability, issued by a recognised body. You should also set out on a separate sheet of paper any special arrangements you think are needed to make it easier for you to take part in the selection.

If you require more information and/or encounter technical problems, please send an e-mail to HR-A2-MANAGEMENT-ONLINE@ec.europa.eu
