DECISION No 521/2001/EC OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL of 26 February 2001
extending certain programmes of Community action in the field of public health adopted by Decisions No 645/96/EC, No 646/96/EC, No 647/96/EC, No 102/97/EC, No 1400/97/EC and
No 1296/1999/EC and amending those Decisions

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Community, and in particular Article 152 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission (1),

Having regard to the opinion of the Economic and Social Committee (2),

Having consulted the Committee of the Regions,

Acting in accordance with the procedure laid down in Article 251 of the Treaty (3),

Whereas:

(1) A number of programmes of Community action within the framework for action in the field of public health are to expire shortly.

(2) The following expire at the end of 2000:
— the programme of Community action on health promotion, information, education and training, adopted by Decision No 645/96/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (4),
— the action plan to combat cancer, adopted by Decision No 646/96/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (5),
— the programme of Community action on the prevention of AIDS and certain other communicable diseases, adopted by Decision No 647/96/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (6),

(3) The following expire at the end of 2001:
— the programme of Community action on health monitoring, adopted by Decision No 1400/97/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (8),
— the programme of Community action on pollution-related diseases, adopted by Decision No 1296/1999/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council (9).

(4) In its Resolution of 8 June 1999 on the future Community action in the field of public health (10), the Council stressed the need for continuity of Community action in the field of public health in the light of the perspective of expiry of existing programmes.

(5) In its Communication of 15 April 1998 to the European Parliament, the Council, the Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on the development of public health policy in the European Community, the Commission indicated that existing public health programmes will be coming to an end from the end of year 2000 onwards and stressed that there is a need to ensure that there is no vacuum in Community policy in this important field. The subsequent debate on that communication resulted in a consensus among the Community institutions in favour of developing a new health strategy with an overall public health programme of action.

(6) While a new strategy and proposals for a new, overall, public health programme are being considered, the present programmes in the public health area should be extended until the end of 2002 in order to avoid any interruption in the Community action concerned.
(7) For the programmes which are due to expire on 31 December 2000, provision should be made for a two-year extension over two successive years for the period from 1 January 2001 to 31 December 2001 and for the period from 1 January 2002 to 31 December 2002, respectively, and for the annual division of the financial framework implementing the programmes in question.

(8) In order to ensure a smooth and effective transition of Community actions from the existing programmes to the overall programme for health being adopted, this Decision for an extension should ensure, in specifying the extension of the financial framework of the programmes, a balanced distribution of financial aid among the action programmes.

(9) This Decision should be repealed from the date of entry into force of a new Decision of the European Parliament and of the Council adopting a Community action programme in the field of public health.

(10) The Agreement on the European Economic Area (EEA) provides for greater cooperation in the field of public health between the Community and its Member States, on the one hand, and the countries of the European Free Trade Association participating in the EEA (EFTA/EEA countries), on the other. Provision should also be made to open the programmes in the field of public health to participation of the associated central and eastern European countries in accordance with the conditions established in the Europe Agreements, in their additional protocols and in the decisions of the respective Association Councils, of Cyprus, funded by additional appropriations in accordance with the procedures to be agreed with that country, as well as of Malta and Turkey, funded by additional appropriations, in accordance with the provisions of the Treaty.

(11) In extending the programmes, account should be taken of the communication of 15 June 2000 from the Commission to the European Parliament, the Council, the Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions, on the health strategy of the European Community, the Council Conclusions of 26 November 1998 on the future framework for Community action in the field of public health (1), the Council Resolution of 8 June 1999 on the future Community action in the field of public health (2), the European Parliament Resolution of 10 March 1999 (3), the opinion of the Economic and Social Committee of 9 September 1998 (4) and the opinion of the Committee of the Regions of 19 November 1998 (5). Account should also be taken of the interim report from the Commission of 14 October 1999 to the European Parliament, the Council, the Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on the implementation of the programmes of Community action on the prevention of cancer, AIDS and certain other communicable diseases, and drug dependence within the framework for action in the field of public health, and the interim report from the Commission of 22 March 2000 to the European Parliament, the Council, the Economic and Social Committee and the Committee of the Regions on the implementation of the programme of Community action on health promotion, information, education and training (1996-2000).

(12) This Decision lays down, for the period of extension of the action programmes, a financial framework constituting the prime reference, within the meaning of point 33 of the Interinstitutional Agreement of 6 May 1999 between the European Parliament, the Council and the Commission on budgetary discipline and improvement of the budgetary procedure (6), for the budgetary authority during the annual budgetary procedure.

(14) The action programmes should be monitored and continuously evaluated by the Commission acting in cooperation with the Member States,
