AMENDED PROPOSAL

Recital 1

Whereas Article 130 r of the Treaty provides that Community policy on the environment is to contribute to the preservation, protection and improvement of the quality of the environment, the protection of human health and the prudent and rational utilisation of natural resources and that it should be based on the precautionary principle; whereas that necessitates, inter alia, the proper integration of environmental considerations into the plans and programmes which are adopted within Member States as part of the town and country planning decision-making process for the purpose of establishing the framework for subsequent development consents (in particular those to which Council Directive 85/337/EEC of 27 June 1985 on the assessment of the effects of certain public and private projects on the environment applies<sup>(2)</sup>);

Whereas Article 130 r of the Treaty provides that Community policy on the environment is to contribute to the preservation, protection and improvement of the quality of the environment, the protection of human health and the prudent and rational utilisation of natural resources and that it should be based on the precautionary principle; whereas that necessitates, inter alia, the proper integration of environmental considerations into the plans and programmes which are prepared and adopted within Member States for setting a framework for future development consents (in particular those to which Council Directive 85/337/EEC of 27 June 1985 on the assessment of the effects of certain public and private projects on the environment applies<sup>(2)</sup>);

Recital 1a (new)

whereas sustainable development, being a key objective of the Community, depends on sound management of natural resources and on the preservation of the equilibrium of the different ecosystems so that the needs of the present generation are met without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs;

Recital 2

whereas this Directive aims at a high level of protection of the environment through the attainment of the objectives provided for in Article 130r (1) of the Treaty and is of a procedural nature, setting out an environmental assessment procedure to be followed by the competent authority before the final decision is taken in relation to plans and programmes likely to have an environmental impact;

whereas this Directive aims at a high level of protection of the environment and for progress towards sustainable development through the attainment of the objectives provided for in Article 130r (1) of the Treaty and is of a procedural nature, setting out a minimum environmental assessment procedure to be followed by the competent authority before the final decision is taken in relation to plans and programmes likely to have environmental impact;

Recital 3a (new)

whereas the adoption of environmental assessment procedures at the planning and programming level will benefit undertakings by providing a more consistent framework in which to operate, and contribute to economically more efficient or cost-effective solutions, leading to the inclusion of a wider set of factors in decision-making;

Recital 5

whereas the different environmental assessment systems operating within Member States are deficient because they do not cover all of the core plans and programmes which establish the framework for subsequent consent decisions and because they do not always contain the minimum procedural requirements necessary to ensure a high level of protection of the environment;

whereas the different environmental assessment systems operating within Member States are deficient because they do not cover all of the core plans and programmes which set a framework for future consent decisions and because they do not always contain the minimum procedural requirements necessary to ensure a high level of protection of the environment;

Recital 7

whereas action is therefore required at Community level to establish a general environmental assessment framework which will remedy these deficiencies and thereby contribute to the pursuit of the environmental objectives set out in the Treaty;

whereas action is therefore required at Community level to lay down a minimum environmental assessment framework which will remedy these deficiencies and thereby contribute to the pursuit of the environmental objectives set out in the Treaty;

Recital 9

whereas the plans and programmes which should be assessed under this Directive are those plans and programmes which are adopted as part of the town and country planning decision-making process for the purpose of establishing the framework for subsequent development-consents, including strategic plans and programmes adopted in the energy, waste, water, industry (including mineral extraction), telecommunications and tourism sectors, and certain transport infrastructure plans and programmes;
