S&D:

Amendment 5

First part: 'Calls for an international investigation into the situation of Kuwaiti "Bidoon" people; stresses that deprivation of nationality is contrary to international law and particularly to Article 15 of the Universal Declaration on Human Rights, which stipulates that "Everyone has the right to a nationality" and that "No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his nationality";'

Second part: 'calls on the Kuwaiti authorities to comply with international conventions regarding statelessness and nationality with a minimum of delay; similarly condemns the systematic recourse to deprivation of nationality in Bahrain, including for human rights defenders, and urges the Bahrain authorities to put an end to this practice and apply international conventions in this field;'

Amendment 6

First part: 'Reiterates that the activities of European companies present in third countries must be entirely consistent with international human rights standards;'

Second part: 'calls for the immediate suspension of all arms trade agreements with Kuwait and Bahrain;'

PPE:

Recital E

First part: 'whereas, according to the OHCHR, the executions took place in serious violation of fair trial standards; whereas the three men were accused of a bombing in Manama in 2014 which killed several people, including three police officers;'

Second part: 'whereas, however, all three were reportedly tortured into confessions which were then used as primary evidence for their convictions;'

Third part: 'whereas they were stripped of their nationality, refused access to a lawyer and executed less than a week after the verdict, with no prior information given to their families and no chance to apply for pardon;'

Thursday 16 February 2017

§ 8

First part: 'Urges the EEAS and the Member States to intervene with the Bahraini Government in order to appeal for the release of Nabeel Rajab and of all those held solely on the basis of their peaceful exercise of freedom of expression and assembly, and to urge the Bahraini Government to stop the excessive use of force against demonstrators or the practice of arbitrary revocation of citizenship,'

Second part: 'as applied to Al-Wefaq's spiritual leader Sheikh Isa Qassim and other dissidents;'

§ 85

First part:

'Reiterates that interparliamentary cooperation should not lead to the establishment of a new parliamentary body or a new institution, because the euro is the currency of the EU and the European Parliament is the parliament of the EU; recalls that the EMU is established by the Union, whose citizens are directly represented at Union level by Parliament, which has to find and be able to implement ways to guarantee the parliamentary democratic accountability of euro area-specific decisions;'

Second part:

'suggests drawing inspiration from past solutions to differentiate involvement in decision-making, recalling, for instance, the status of the Berlin members of the German Bundesrat before reunification, who had the right to participate but whose votes were not taken into account;'

Miscellaneous

Amendments 2-20 were cancelled.

§ 32

- First part:* Text as a whole without the words: ‘believes that replacing the human factor with robots could dehumanise caring practices;’, on the other hand,’
- Second part:* those words

- First part:* ‘Notes the great advances delivered by and further potential of robotics in the field of repairing and compensating for damaged organs and human functions, but also the complex questions raised in particular by the possibilities of human enhancement, as medical robots and particularly cyber physical systems (CPS) may change our concepts about the healthy human body since they can be worn directly on or implanted in the human body;’
- Second part:* ‘underlines the importance of urgently establishing in hospitals and in other health care institutions appropriately staffed committees on robot ethics tasked with considering and assisting in resolving unusual, complicated ethical problems involving issues that affect the care and treatment of patients; calls on the Commission and the Member States to develop guidelines to aid in the establishment and functioning of such committees;’

Annex (under 2nd subheading ‘Registration of smart robots’)

- First part:* ‘a system of registration of advanced robots should be introduced, based on the criteria established for the classification of robots. The system of registration and the register should be Union-wide, covering the internal market;’
- Second part:* ‘and could be managed by a designated EU Agency for Robotics and Artificial Intelligence in case such an Agency is created.’

Annex (9th subheading)

- First part:* ‘Researchers in the field of robotics should commit themselves to the highest ethical and professional conduct’
- Second part:* ‘and abide by the following principles:’

Annex (below 9th subheading)

- First part:* ‘Beneficence — robots should act in the best interests of humans;’
- Second part:* ‘Non-maleficence — the doctrine of “first, do no harm”, whereby robots should not harm a human;’
- Third part:* ‘Autonomy — the capacity to make an informed, un-coerced decision about the terms of interaction with robots;’
- Fourth part:* ‘Justice — fair distribution of the benefits associated with robotics and affordability of homecare and healthcare robots in particular.’

Thursday 16 February 2017

ALDE, ENF:

§ 2

First part: 'Considers that a comprehensive Union system of registration of advanced robots should be introduced within the Union's internal market where relevant and necessary for specific categories of robots, and calls on the Commission to establish criteria for the classification of robots that would need to be registered;'

Second part: 'in this context, calls on the Commission to investigate whether it would be desirable for the registration system and the register to be managed by a designated EU Agency for Robotics and Artificial Intelligence;'

ALDE, PPE:

§ 44

First part: 'Highlights the importance of foreseeing changes to society, bearing in mind the effect that the development and deployment of robotics and AI might have; asks the Commission to analyse different possible scenarios and their consequences on the viability of the social security systems of the Member States;'

Second part: 'takes the view that an inclusive debate should be started on new employment models and on the sustainability of our tax and social systems on the basis of the existence of sufficient income, including the possible introduction of a general basic income;'

Miscellaneous:

Albert Deß, Peter Liese, Teresa Jiménez-Becerril Barrio and Luis de Grandes Pascual had withdrawn their signatures from Amendments 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8.
