Recital D

First part: 'whereas all State aid should be designed and granted in an economically, socially and environmentally responsible manner;'

Second part: 'whereas in the long run, competition policy should efficiently address social, digital and environmental challenges, and should be fully in line with the priorities outlined in the European Green Deal and the objectives of the Paris Agreement;'

First part: 'Believes that a strict and impartial enforcement of EU competition rules by independent competition authorities is crucial for European companies active in the internal market and at international level, especially for SMEs, and can make a significant contribution to key political priorities such as a deeper and fairer internal market, a connected digital single market, the Union's global competitiveness,'

Second part: 'the fight against social inequalities and the climate crisis, as well as to European values regarding environmental standards, social affairs, climate policy and consumer protection; emphasises, however, the importance of well-dosed flexibility in crisis conditions;'

First part: 'Notes that the Temporary Framework includes certain conditions for certain types of State aid measures such as recapitalisation; welcomes in this regard conditions such as a ban on dividend distribution, bonus payments and share buybacks;'

Second part: 'regrets, however, that such conditions were not imposed on other State aid measures; calls on the Commission to impose such conditions on all State aid measures in the Temporary Framework, including, in particular, recapitalisation measures, which should be considered only as a solution of last resort by Member States, due to the major distortive impact they can have on the internal market;'

First part: 'Calls on the Commission and the Member States to launch a post COVID-19 roadmap for better targeted State aid in order to promote competitiveness and safeguard jobs; suggests that such a roadmap could include measures to tackle market fragmentation and distortions due to an uneven playing field, an analysis of the impact of State aid on the internal market, and clear guidance on how best to use competition policy tools to foster the recovery;'

Second part: 'urges the Commission, furthermore, to mainstream industrial, digital and green strategies in setting the future conditions for State aid;'

First part: Text as a whole without the words: 'those aligning with the European Green Deal,'

Second part: those words

§ 50

First part: 'Underlines the importance of the transparency register to ensure public scrutiny of lobbying efforts with the aim of preventing distortion of competition;'

Second part: 'calls for an enhanced EU transparency register with information related to funding of companies or associations in order to prevent stakeholders from acting on behalf of other companies without specifying that they are doing so;'

Renew:

First part: Text as a whole without the words: 'regrets the absence of adequate measures against advertising intermediaries in the draft proposals;'

Second part: those words

ID:
§ 12

First part: 'Welcomes the adoption of a Temporary Framework for State aid measures,'

Second part: 'and amendments to prolong and expand it,'

Thursday 10 June 2021

Third part: 'established in response to unexpected developments related to the unprecedented COVID-19 crisis to enable Member States to support companies during the pandemic; supports the maintenance of exceptional measures for as long as the recovery is ongoing, but underlines that the Framework is a temporary tool; stresses that restoring effective competition in the medium to long term is key to ensuring that the recovery is rapid and consistent; notes substantial differences between Member States regarding their available fiscal space for the provision of State aid;'

PPE, Renew:
§ 82

First part: Text as a whole without the words: 'regrets that the Commission continues to negotiate free trade agreements at any cost;'

Second part: those words

Recital J

First part: 'whereas the EU Recovery Fund supports sectors deeply affected by the crisis; whereas the impact on European society as a whole will therefore have long-term effects on the education, employability and future of all citizens, and the rapid response of the European institutions and their willingness to support European society should be commended;'

Second part: 'whereas the overarching priorities of the EU Recovery Fund focus on sectors with a high share of male employment and therefore could potentially risk increasing inequalities between men and women in employment;'

First part: 'Stresses the importance of cohesion policy in promoting equality between people and between regions, including gender equality, and in implementing the EU Gender Equality Strategy,'

Second part: 'including its gender-related health priorities such as sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR);'

Third part: 'recalls that all policy goals need appropriate, sufficient and sustainable resources dedicated to their implementation; recommends that the Member States take gender equality measures into account when developing and approving programmes;'

First part: 'Considers that programme stakeholders and monitoring committees should be equipped with clearer indicators of programme efficiency and effectiveness when it comes to the implementation of a gender perspective in concrete projects, especially in ERDF interventions; considers that the guidelines, training programmes and concrete examples of good practice to address this issue remain limited in number; underlines, in this regard, the potential of the ERDF/Cohesion Fund to bridge the gap women are still facing, with particular reference to female entrepreneurship and the digital sector, as women represent only 34,4 % of the self-employed and 30 % of start-up entrepreneurs in the European Union;'

Second part: 'urges the Council to reach an agreement on the proposal for a directive on improving gender balance among non-executive directors of companies listed on stock exchanges and related measures (the Women on Boards Directive), as it is a very important tool for achieving a greater gender balance in economic decision-making at the highest level;'

Third part: 'calls for part of the cohesion policy funds to be devoted to supporting women in poverty, women at risk of poverty, single mothers, women with disabilities and women who are victims of violence; calls on the Member States and their respective authorities to deliver such programmes;'

First part: 'Calls on the Member States to utilise cohesion policy funding to further reduce regional economic and social disparities with a particular focus on combating the feminisation of poverty, on unemployment among women and their exclusion from many economic opportunities, on preventing and combating all forms of gender-based violence and discrimination, on promoting and pursuing women's empowerment through improving access to and reintegration into the labour market and on addressing health-related priorities as defined in the Gender Equality Strategy 2020-2025,'

Second part: 'in particular sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) as a fundamental human right and an essential aspect of people's well-being, and on the advancement of gender equality;'

Thursday 10 June 2021

Third part: 'calls, furthermore, for the improvement of synergies between Cohesion and Recovery Funds and other existing programmes with the aim of improving working conditions for women, including by combating the gender pay gap, precarious employment and informal work, investing in care facilities, combating and preventing gender-based violence'

Fourth part: 'and ensuring access to SRHR services, among others;'

PPE:

§ 1, point w

First part: 'promote coherence of UN dealings towards situations of occupation or annexation of territory; recalls that international humanitarian law should guide international engagement in all such situations, including in cases of protracted occupation and the multiple frozen conflicts in Eastern Partnership countries; Parliament supports the increasing attention paid by the UN to business activities related to situations of international concern'

Second part: 'and calls on the Council to closely monitor EU-based companies that are listed in such UN reports or databases;'

§ 1, point al

First part: Text as a whole without the words: 'in line with the Beijing Declaration and its Platform for Action'

Second part: those words

Recital E

First part: Text as a whole without the words: 'whereas further courageous measures and political resolve are needed to address key outstanding issues, notably the reform of the structure of the UN Security Council;'

Second part: those words

§ 1, point b

First part: Text as a whole without the word: 'unconditional'

Second part: this word

PPE, ECR:

§ 1, point c

First part: 'continue with its efforts to enable the EU and its Member States to speak with one voice in the UN and other multilateral fora'

Second part: 'and make the EU's foreign and security policy more effective and proactive by using the rule of qualified majority voting in the Council in order to strengthen cooperation on matters of key strategic interest for the EU or reflecting its fundamental values,' without the words: 'by using the rule of qualified majority voting in the Council'

Third part: 'by using the rule of qualified majority voting in the Council'

Fourth part: 'as this is the only way that the Union can play a leading role on the international scene and use its influence to bring about positive changes and better responses to global challenges, with particular reference to the UN Security Council (UNSC) and the good track record of cooperation with permanent and rotating UNSC members which are EU Member States, with the UN General Assembly (UNGA) and with the Human Rights Council (HCR); Parliament praises the excellent role played by the EEAS and its delegations, as well as the delegations of the EU Member States, in facilitating such dialogue and cooperation; takes the view that, in order to uphold its objectives and interests, the EU should seek to arrive at common positions on issues before the Security Council through coordination within the Council and among EU institutions; in keeping with Article 34 TEU, so that EU coherence and credibility at the UN level is improved; recalls that the EU is represented in the UN by multiple actors;'

§ 1, point h

First part: ‘continue to provide valuable support to the UN Secretary-General in his quest to advance the programme of reforms in the UN to reinforce the UN’s capacity to further sustainable development, promote peace and security, to streamline its internal management system with a view to an effective, transparent, financially sustainable and accountable UN that is able to reconnect with its citizens, including local communities and other grassroots actors and civil society, and to be more in line with the challenging global agenda; take leadership on the issue of the arbitrary deferral of applications by a number of civil society organisations for UN consultative status; Parliament underlines that the major progress achieved in the UN reform process has been in the administrative and bureaucratic sphere, while major political reforms remain pending, and should include the revitalisation of the UN General Assembly and concrete steps to accelerate the alignment of the development system with the 2030 Agenda; takes the view that the EU and its Member States should find a broad consensus to reform the UNSC inter alia’

Second part: ‘a permanent seat for the European Union, in addition to already existing seats held by Member States, and’

Third part: ‘a limitation of the use of the right to veto, notably in cases of war crimes and crimes against humanity and a change in the composition of its membership to better reflect today’s world; believes that the EU should support the Secretary-General and ask him to intensify his efforts in the implementation of the UN Strategy on Gender Parity to ensure the equal representation of women in the UN system at all hierarchical levels; takes the view that EU should remind the UN that, since the creation of the UN in 1945, no woman has been appointed Secretary-General of the United Nations;’

§ 1, point v

First part: ‘pursue further consistent dialogue across UN fora, in particular UNGA, on the need to protect the human rights of LGBTI persons, in line with the EU’s guidelines to promote and protect the enjoyment of all human rights by LGBTI persons in multilateral fora, the EU guidelines on death penalty,’

Second part: ‘and in respect of the internationally recognised Yogyakarta Principles;’

Third part: ‘encourage UN bodies and Members to include “gender identity and expression” and “sex characteristics” in their scope of consideration of human rights violations, thereby including transgender and intersex persons, as well as human rights violations to which they are victim;’

Fourth part: ‘use all diplomatic tools at its disposal to advocate at global level for the decriminalisation of consensual same-sex acts, the abolition of the death penalty as a sanction for consensual same-sex acts, the adoption of legislation allowing for legal gender recognition and the banning of intersex genital mutilation and so-called “conversion therapy” practices worldwide;’

PPE, ID:
§ 1, point ae

First part: ‘play an active, strong and ambitious leadership role in the preparations for the 26th UN Climate Change Conference (COP26), including on a human rights perspective,’

Second part: ‘in particular by promoting a global recognition of the right to a safe, clean, healthy and sustainable environment,’

Third part: ‘and by supporting the mandate of the UN Special Rapporteur on Human Rights and the Environment; Parliament notes that climate change and loss biodiversity are among the major current challenges; supports the UN Environmental Rights Initiative, which is a recognition that violations of environmental rights have a profound impact on a wide variety of human rights;’

Fourth part: ‘stresses that biodiversity and human rights are interlinked and interdependent’

Thursday 10 June 2021

Fifth part: 'recall the human rights obligations of States to protect the biodiversity including by providing access to effective remedies in cases of biodiversity loss and degradation;' without the words: 'human rights'

Sixth part: 'human rights'

Seventh part: 'Parliament, in this regard, encourages the EU and the Member States to promote the recognition of ecocide as an international crime under the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court;'

Eighth part: 'takes the view that the EU should implement specific measures to put resilience at the heart of recovery efforts and to mainstream disaster risk reduction throughout EU policies in cooperation with the UN, in line with the targets set out in the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015-2030; takes the view that the EU should reinvigorate the partnership with the current US Administration supporting the creation of a "global net-zero coalition" with the countries that have already committed to the goal of achieving zero emissions by 2050, cooperating with other countries in the development of carbon emission removal plans and technologies, and promoting a new international strategy for the protection of biodiversity;'

§ 1, point aj

First part: 'address migration and forced displacement, including its root causes, and'

Second part: 'cooperate on the implementation of both the Global Compact on Migration and the Global Compact on Refugees;' without the words: 'both the Global Compact on Migration and'

Third part: 'both the Global Compact on Migration and'

Fourth part: 'recalls that human rights should remain at the core of the Global Compact with a specific attention to migrants in situations of vulnerability, such as children, minors and women; continue building the shared commitment towards preserving the humanitarian space and improving the humanitarian response system and stress the importance of upholding the right to asylum worldwide; support and reinforce the work of relevant UN bodies such as UNHCR and the UN Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA);'

Fifth part: 'reaffirm UNRWA's key role in providing humanitarian and development assistance to Palestinian refugees;'

Sixth part: 'appeal to UN Member States for the maintenance and increase in contributions to UNRWA, and'

Seventh part: 'support the proposal by UNRWA Commissioner General for a conference leading to a more predictable, sustainable and accountable financing flow and expenditure system for UNRWA for the future and a commitment to this effect by a larger number of UN Member States and international donors;'

PPE:
amendment 2

First part: 'Underlines that, in the long term, global production of vaccines must urgently be expanded to meet global demand, and that investment in the production capabilities of developing countries is therefore needed to make them more self-sufficient; points out the need for effective transfer of technology and know-how to make this happen; recognises that incentivising voluntary licensing agreements and voluntary technology and know-how transfer to countries with pre-existing vaccine-producing industries should be the most important way to achieve this; is, however, open to discussing all effective and pragmatic solutions to further boost global vaccine production and calls on the Commission, in particular, to engage with the US and other like-minded countries in this respect;'

Second part: 'believes, however, that in this context the Commission can only examine specific proposals relating to a time-limited and targeted waiver as a measure of last resort, and only once the broad support of EU Member States for such a targeted, extraordinary and temporary measure has been assured;'

Verts/ALE:
amendment 4

First part: Text as a whole without the words: 'to discuss any option that helps end the pandemic as soon as possible; is, however, not convinced that the broad TRIPS waiver proposed by a number of WTO members would provide the best immediate response to reach the objective of the widest and most timely distribution of COVID-19 vaccines, since it would not improve global production capacities in the short term; believes that the EU should be strong in its support for innovation and intellectual property rights in global discussions; supports the Commission and the European Council's recent declarations and their readiness'

Second part: those words

amendment 6

First part: 'Takes note of the Commission's announcement that it is open to the possibility of facilitating the use of compulsory licensing where necessary in order to ensure swift global access to vaccine production;'

Second part: 'calls on the Commission to provide objective criteria for if, when and in what cases it will resort to compulsory licensing; stresses that the TRIPS Agreement does not specify the reasons which might be used to justify compulsory licensing;'

Thursday 10 June 2021

Third part: 'emphasises that the Doha Declaration on TRIPS and Public Health confirms that countries are free to determine the grounds on granting compulsory licenses and to determine what constitutes a national emergency; stresses that compulsory licencing requires an effective legal framework, and that this could lead to legal difficulties in developing countries; calls on the Commission to explore if and how it will provide legal support for compulsory licencing in least developed countries;'

Fourth part: 'welcomes the Commission's assessment that cooperation and voluntary licencing are the most effective tools to facilitate the expansion of production;'

Amendment 16

First part: 'Points out, furthermore, that as it is likely that new variants of COVID-19 and other zoonoses may become regular occurrences over the coming years, it is urgent and crucial to develop a funding model for the development and distribution of global public goods such as vaccines and other essential health technologies; stresses that this model should revisit the global framework for intellectual property rights for future pandemics'

Second part: 'and shift from a model based on exclusive rights to innovative approaches such as "prize models" based on the decoupling of the serial production of goods from the costs related to research and development;'

Verts/ALE, S&D:
Amendment 5

First part: 'Stresses that intellectual property protection is a key incentive for innovation and research across the globe; notes that such protection is the basis for voluntary licencing agreements and know-how transfer and is therefore an enabler of rather than a barrier to vaccine availability;'

Second part: 'cautions that under a paradigm of unenforceability for patents, companies would have to resort to secrecy or exclusivity to protect their innovations; underlines the threat that an indefinite TRIPS Agreement waiver would pose to research finance, in particular for researchers, investors, developers and clinical trials; emphasises that the protection of property rights, including intellectual property rights, is a constitutional obligation of the European Union and its Member States;'
