COUNCIL RESOLUTIONof 29 June 1990*concerning cooperation in the field of scientific and technical research (COST) and Central and Eastern European States*(90/C 172/02)

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

Having regard to the Council resolution concerning COST and the European Communities adopted on 20 June 1989 ⁽¹⁾,

Having regard to the conclusions of the European Councils of 8 and 9 December 1989 and 28 April 1990 in respect of Central and Eastern European countries and to the statement adopted by the Council on 23 April 1990 in relation to the additional contribution the Community can make to these countries under its research policy,

Having regard to the letter of 19 June 1990 addressed to the President of the Council by the chairman of the COST Senior Officials Committee,

Whereas the COST Senior Officials Committee has examined a proposal relating to COST and Central and Eastern European States undergoing reforms;

Whereas COST Type B projects are already open to participation from non-COST States, in particular other European States, on a case-by-case basis;

WELCOMES the possibility of progressively including as members of the COST framework Central and Eastern European countries undergoing reforms based on the founding principles of democracy, pluralism and the rule of law. R&D cooperation with such countries should have clear scientific justification and be mutually beneficial and should take place after a careful examination of the overall implications of such an enlargement;

RECOGNIZES the advantages of broadening the scope of COST cooperation by their inclusion;

ENCOURAGES the COST Senior Officials Committee and the Commission to undertake, in liaison with the countries concerned, a thorough examination of the modalities involved, including the possible adjustments to the COST framework which may prove necessary, and to inform Council of the results of this examination.

(Articles 92 to 94 of the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community)

(90/C 172/05)

Commission communication pursuant to Article 93 (2) of the EEC Treaty to other Member States and interested parties concerning aid which the French Government decided to grant through the Agence pour la Qualité de l'Air (AQA) for investments in desulphurization.

In the following letter, the Commission informed the French Government of its decision to close the procedure opened on 28 June 1990:

'By letter dated 10 July 1989, the Commission informed your Government of the decision it took on 28 June 1989 to open the Article 93 (2) procedure against the aid granted by the Agence pour la Qualité de l'Air (AQA) for investments in desulphurization.

In a notice published on 22 November 1989 in the Official Journal of the European Communities⁽¹⁾, the other interested parties were given notice to submit their comments.

By letter dated 17 August 1989, your Government informed the Commission that it was prepared to abolish the old scheme and notify a new scheme incorporating the comments made by the Commission in its Article 93 (2) procedure opened against the former scheme. Your Government also stressed the innovatory nature of the aided investments which were limited to non-productive equipment and constituted a first industrial application. Note was also be taken of AQA's efforts to disseminate the aided technological experiments and thus allow the development and demonstration of new technologies, and their progress.

In view of these considerations, and the approach the Commission has always taken to aid for firms applying new technologies for the first time and on an industrial scale which are aimed at bringing pollution levels to well below legal standards, the Commission has decided to close the procedure it opened on 28 June 1989 in respect of the desulphurization investment aid awarded through the Agence pour la Qualité de l'Air (AQA).'

COMMISSION OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES
EDUCATIONAL AND VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE SERVICES
FOR THE 14—25 AGE-GROUP IN THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY

Social Europe — Supplement 4/87

This is the latest in a series of reports commissioned by the Commission of the European Communities to examine the state of educational and vocational guidance services in the European Community, and to recommend how the Commission might best support the future development of such services. The report differs from earlier reports in concentrating mainly on the 14—25 age-group and in its special concern for two particular issues: the changing role of professional guidance services, and the linkages between different services.

TRANSITION OF YOUNG PEOPLE FROM EDUCATION TO ADULT AND WORKING LIFE

Social Europe — Supplement 5/87

Closing the 'gap' between education and the outside world, in particular the world of the economy, was a major concern in nearly all the 30 pilot projects which took part, from 1983 to 1987, in the European Community's second Action Programme on the transition of young people from education to adult and working life.

This concern reflected the current political pressure in nearly every Community country to improve the quality of education and training; to reduce the number of young people entering adult life without a recognized vocational qualification; and thereby to increase economic efficiency and competitiveness, and keep up with the pace of economic and technical change.

This special Supplement reproduces the texts of two analyses of the Transition Programme pilot projects' responses to these pressures, and of their approaches to 'closing the gap'.
