General remark: When there is a stroke in column 4 (reference of the superseded standard), it means that the referenced standard may not be used without amendment or particular part for EMC purposes.

Note 1: Generally the date of cessation of presumption of conformity will be the date of withdrawal ('dow'), set by the European Standardisation Organisation, but attention of users of these standards is drawn to the fact that in certain exceptional cases this can be otherwise.

Note 2.1: The new (or amended) standard has the same scope as the superseded standard. On the date stated, the superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive.

Note 2.2: The new standard has a broader scope than the superseded standard. On the date stated the superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive.

Note 2.3: The new standard has a narrower scope than the superseded standard. On the date stated the (partially) superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive for those products that fall within the scope of the new standard. Presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the directive for products that still fall within the scope of the (partially) superseded standard, but that do not fall within the scope of the new standard, is unaffected.

Note 3: In case of amendments, the referenced standard is EN CCCC:YYYY, its previous amendments, if any, and the new, quoted amendment. The superseded standard (column 4) therefore consists of EN CCCC:YYYY and its previous amendments, if any, but without the new quoted amendment. On the date stated, the superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive.

Example: For EN 55013:1990, the following applies:

Cenelec	EN 55013:1990 Limits and methods of measurement of radio disturbance characteristics of broadcast receivers and associated equipment (The referenced standard is EN 55013:1990) Amendment A12:1994 to EN 55013:1990 (The referenced standard is EN 55013:1990 +A12:1994 to EN 55013:1990) Amendment A13:1996 to EN 55013:1990 (The referenced standard is EN 55013:1990 +A12:1994 to EN 55013:1990 +A13:1996 to EN 55013:1990) Amendment A14:1999 to EN 55013:1990 (The referenced standard is EN 55013:1990 +A12:1994 to EN 55013:1990 +A13:1996 to EN 55013:1990 +A14:1999 to EN 55013:1990)	CISPR 13:1975 +A1:1983 (modified)	None (There is no superseded standard) Note 3 (The superseded standard is EN 55013:1990) Note 3 (The superseded standard is EN 55013:1990 +A12:1994 to EN 55013:1990) Note 3 (The superseded standard is EN 55013:1990 +A12:1994 to EN 55013:1990 +A13:1996 to EN 55013:1990)	— Date expired (31.12.1998) Date expired (1.6.1999) Date expired (1.8.2001)

- Note 1: Generally the date of cessation of presumption of conformity will be the date of withdrawal ('dow'), set by the European Standardisation Organisation, but attention of users of these standards is drawn to the fact that in certain exceptional cases this can be otherwise.
- Note 2.1: The new (or amended) standard has the same scope as the superseded standard. On the date stated, the superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive.
- Note 2.2: The new standard has a broader scope than the superseded standard. On the date stated the superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive.
- Note 2.3: The new standard has a narrower scope than the superseded standard. On the date stated the (partially) superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the directive for those products that fall within the scope of the new standard. Presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive for products that still fall within the scope of the (partially) superseded standard, but that do not fall within the scope of the new standard, is unaffected.
- Note 3: In case of amendments, the referenced standard is EN CCCC:YYYY, its previous amendments, if any, and the new, quoted amendment. The superseded standard (column 4) therefore consists of EN CCCC:YYYY and its previous amendments, if any, but without the new quoted amendment. On the date stated, the superseded standard ceases to give presumption of conformity with the essential requirements of the Directive.

Example: For EN 60215:1989, the following applies:

Cenelec	EN 60215:1989 Safety requirements for radio transmitting equipment (The referenced standard is EN 60215:1989)	IEC 60215:1987	None (There is no superseded standard)	—	Article 3(1)(a) (and Article 2 73/23/EEC)
	Amendment A1:1992 to EN 60215:1989 (The referenced standard is EN 60215:1989 +A1:1992 to EN 60215:1989)	IEC 60215:1987 /A1:1990	Note 3 (The superseded standard is EN 60215:1989)	Date expired (1.6.1993)
	Amendment A2:1994 to EN 60215:1989 (The referenced standard is EN 60215:1989 +A1:1992 to EN 60215:1989 +A2:1994 to EN 60215:1989)	IEC 60215:1987 /A2:1993	Note 3 (The superseded standard is EN 60215:1989 +A1:1992 to EN 60215:1989)	Date expired (15.7.1995)

- Note 4: EN 301 489-1 contains the common EMC emission and immunity requirements for all radio equipment and must be used together with the appropriate radio part of this standard, to demonstrate presumption of conformity to Article 3(1)(b) of the Directive.

NOTE:

- In addition standards published under Directives 73/23/EEC and 89/336/EEC may be used to demonstrate compliance with Articles 3(1)(a) and 3(1)(b) of Directive 1999/5/EC.
- Products are presumed to comply with the Directive when they meet the requirements within the usage conditions for which they are intended.
- This list replaces all the previous lists published in the Official Journal of the European Communities.

Amendment by France of public service obligations in respect of scheduled air services within France

(2002/C 62/05)

1. France has decided to alter the public service obligation in respect of scheduled air services between Rodez (Marcillac) and Paris (Orly), as published in Official Journal of the European Communities C 165 of 31 May 1997, pursuant to Article 4(1)(a) of Council Regulation (EEC) No 2408/92 of 23 July 1992 on access for Community air carriers to intra-Community air routes.

2. The new public service obligation is as follows:

Minimum frequency

The minimum level of service provided must be:

- three return trips per day, morning, midday and evening, excluding public holidays, from Monday to Friday, all year round. The frequency at midday may be reduced at most eight weeks a year, in particular from mid-July to the beginning of September,
- one return trip, in the morning, on Saturdays,
- two return trips, afternoon and evening, on Sundays,
- one return trip on public holidays, except in special cases and with the agreement of the Syndicat mixte de l'aménagement et de l'exploitation de l'aéroport Rodez/Marcillac.

The services must be operated without a stopover between Rodez (Marcillac) and Paris (Orly).

Type of aircraft used and capacity provided

The service must be operated with a pressurised aircraft having a seating capacity of at least 50.

Timetables

Timetables must be such as to enable passengers on business trips during the working week to make the round trip within the day and to spend at least eight hours at their destination, whether Paris or Rodez.

Timetables must be such as to allow transit passengers to make use of Community and international connections at Paris (Orly).

Slots are reserved at Paris (Orly) airport for the scheduled Paris (Orly)–Rodez (Marcillac) service pursuant to Article 9 of Council Regulation (EEC) No 95/93 on common rules for the allocation of slots at Community airports. Air carriers interested in this route can obtain information about these slots from the Paris airports coordinator.

Flight bookings

Flights must be marketed by means of at least one computerised reservation system.

Fare increases must not exceed increases in the gross domestic product (GDP) price index excluding taxes and charges, except in the event of a significant increase in dollar reference parameters, fuel, insurance premiums, or any other substantial change in the economic environment which the carrier can justify over a given period in excess of three months.

Continuity of service

Except in cases of force majeure, the number of flights cancelled for reasons directly attributable to the carrier must not exceed 3 % of the number of flights scheduled in any IATA scheduling season. In addition, the carrier must give six months' notice before discontinuing the services.

Community carriers are hereby informed that the operation of air services without regard to the abovementioned public service obligation may result in administrative and/or criminal penalties.

3. This public service obligation replaces, with effect from 31 March 2002, the public service obligation concerning scheduled air services between Rodez (Marcillac) and Paris (Orly), as published in Official Journal of the European Communities C 165 of 31 May 1997.
