Miscellaneous

Daniel Dăianu moved the following oral amendment:

— rec La (new):

La. whereas the increasing cross-border nature of banking in Europe and the need to respond in a coordinated way to adverse shocks, as well as the need to deal with systemic risks effectively, require divergences between the national regimes of Member States to be reduced to the greatest extent possible; whereas there is a need to move beyond the studies that the Commission has already carried out in this regard and to amend Directive 94/19/EC as soon as possible to provide the same level of protection for bank deposits across the whole European Union in order to preserve financial stability and depositors' confidence and avoid distortions of competition,

Ieke van den Burg proposed the following two oral amendments:

— am 6/rev:

(d) the Lamfalussy Level 3 Committees can take decisions on the basis of a fair and appropriate QMV system that takes into account the relative size of the financial sector and the GDP of each Member State, as well as the systemic importance of the financial sector for the Member State; such a procedure should be elaborated both for decisions on supervisory convergence issues and for the advice to the Commission on legislation and regulation;

— annex, point 2, point c:

(c) ensure that EU rules on deposit guarantees are urgently revised to avoid arbitrage between guarantee levels in Member States that may further increase volatility and undermine financial stability instead of increasing security and depositors' confidence; they should also guarantee a level playing field for financial institutions; EU rules on deposit guarantees should be amended to support further development of ex-ante schemes financed by contributions from financial institutions; the level of refund should be significantly increased and the availability of refunds to retail clients in case of failing financial institution should be ensured within a reasonable timeframe including in cases of cross-border situations;
