MINUTES OF THE SITTING OF 14 JANUARY 2019

IN THE CHAIR: Antonio TAJANI

President

1. Resumption of the session

The session suspended on Thursday 13 December 2018 was resumed.

2. Opening of the sitting

The sitting opened at 17.04.

3. Statements by the President

The President made a statement paying tribute to Pawel Adamowicz, Mayor of the city of Gdansk, who had been attacked on Sunday evening and succumbed to his wounds a few hours before the sitting. He conveyed Parliament's condolences to the victim's family and the city of Gdansk.

The President mentioned the terrorist attack in Strasbourg in December. He also expressed his deep concern at the upsurge in tension and violence in Europe and said that everyone had the responsibility to engage in respectful dialogue. He informed Members that he would hold discussions during the week with the Mayor of Strasbourg on how the victims of December's events could best be honoured. He would also propose to the Conference of Presidents that Parliament's radio studio be named after the two journalists who died in the attack.

Parliament observed a minute's silence.

The following spoke: Janusz Lewandowski, Maria João Rodrigues, Fabio Massimo Castaldo, Dimitrios Papadimoulis, Jarosław Wałęsa, Mara Bizzotto, Jadwiga Wiśniewska, Patrizia Toia, Marcel de Graaff, Cláudia Monteiro de Aguiar and Claudia Tapardel.

4. Approval of the minutes of the previous sitting

The minutes of the previous sitting were approved.

Elsi Katainen had been present at the sitting of 29 November 2018 but her name was not on the attendance register.

Sergio Gaetano Cofferati had been excused for the sittings of 11 and 13 September 2018.

Monday 14 January 2019

5. Composition of Parliament

Catherine Stihler had given notice in writing of her resignation as Member of Parliament, with effect from 1 February 2019.

In accordance with Rule 4, Parliament established the vacancy from that date and informed the national authority concerned.

6. Composition of political groups

James Carver had ceased to be a non-attached Member and had joined the EFDD Group with effect from 10 January 2019.

7. Request for waiver of immunity

The German authorities had forwarded a request to waive the immunity of Monika Hohlmeier in relation to a juridical inquiry that had been opened against her by the public prosecutor of Coburg.

Pursuant to Rule 9(1), the request had been referred to the committee responsible, the JURI Committee.

8. Composition of committees and delegations

The President had received the following requests for appointments from the EFDD Group:

- BUDG Committee: Jonathan Arnott to replace Raymond Finch
- PECH Committee: Patrick O'Flynn to replace Mike Hookem

The appointments would be deemed ratified if there were no objections before the approval of these minutes.

9. Negotiations before the first reading in Parliament (Rule 69(c))

The President announced the decisions by committees to enter into interinstitutional negotiations on the basis of the following reports (in accordance with Rule 69c(1)):

- JURI Committee, based on the report on the proposal for a directive of the European Parliament and of the Council amending Directive (EU) 2017/1132 as regards cross-border conversions, mergers and divisions (COM(2018)0241 — C8-0167/2018 — 2018/0114(COD)). Rapporteur: Evelyn Regner (A8-0002/2019);

Second part: those words

Tuesday 15 January 2019

§ 17

First part: 'Welcomes the fact that most of the parliamentary committees have adopted action plans on gender mainstreaming for their work and that many have already presented them to the Gender Mainstreaming Network; calls, therefore, on the remaining few committees to follow suit; notes, however, the heterogeneity of these plans and the lack of implementation thereof; calls for the adoption of a common gender action plan for the European Parliament which should, at least, contain provisions regarding equal gender representation in all parliamentary work and all of Parliament's bodies, the introduction of a gender perspective in all its policy activities and in its working organisation and the use of gender-neutral language in all documents;'

Second part: 'requests that the Rules of Procedure be amended accordingly;'

First part: 'Calls for closer cooperation among the parliamentary committees aimed at bringing a real gender dimension to their reports and stresses the importance for all parliamentary committees of showing respect for the competences of the Committee on Women's Rights and Gender Equality, both by accepting the gender mainstreaming amendments tabled by the Committee'

Second part: 'and by working together to avoid conflicts of competences;'

First part: text as a whole excluding the word: 'mandatory'

Second part: that word

§ 50

First part: 'Commends the progress made in the Parliament Secretariat on improving gender equality in senior and middle management positions, but notes that despite the fact that the majority of Parliament officials are women, their representation in senior or middle management positions is still very low: at the end of 2017, 15.4% of Directors-General, 30.4% of Directors and 36.2% of Heads of Unit in the Parliament Secretariat were women;'

Second part: 'recalls, therefore, that when choosing between applicants with the same profile (experience, qualification, etc.) the under-represented gender should be preferred;'

S&D, PPE:

§ 24

First part: text as a whole excluding the words: 'mandatory' and '(c) strengthen the anti-harassment committees by merging them into one sole committee with a variable composition depending on the case under examination and including experts such as lawyers and doctors as standing members of the committee;'

MINUTES OF THE SITTING OF 16 JANUARY 2019

IN THE CHAIR: Antonio TAJANI

President

1. Opening of the sitting

The sitting opened at 8.35.

2. Statement by the President

The President made a statement following the rejection of the Brexit agreement by the UK House of Commons the previous day. He reaffirmed Parliament's confidence in the EU negotiating team headed by Michel Barnier, and stressed the need to prepare for all eventualities, including that of the UK leaving without a deal. He said that the interests of EU citizens living in the UK and those of UK citizens living throughout the Union had to be taken into account, as did the question of the border between the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland.

3. Debate on cases of breaches of human rights, democracy and the rule of law (announcement of motions for resolutions tabled)

GUE/NGL:

Recital BD

First part: 'whereas several other competent authorities around the world, including those of the US, Canada, New Zealand, Australia and Japan, have subsequently finalised new assessments of glyphosate and concluded that it is not carcinogenic;'

Second part: 'whereas glyphosate is still under review by the US Environmental Protection Agency, whose draft ecological risk assessment clearly states that there is potential for effects on birds, mammals, and terrestrial and aquatic plants;'

Recital BY

First part: Text as a whole excluding the word: 'high'

Second part: this word

Recital CC

First part: 'whereas concern has been raised with regard to the zonal system, and in particular the delays in the procedure and the frequent full or partial re-evaluations of applications in the context of mutual recognition, arising from the differing national requirements of evaluation models of Member States in the same zone;'

Second part: 'whereas the aim of the procedure of mutual recognition by Member States was to simplify procedures and increase trust among the Member States; whereas the application of the mutual recognition procedure is regarded as an important tool to increase work sharing and ensure compliance with deadlines while guaranteeing optimum protection, and is important for the functioning of the internal market;'

First part: Text as a whole excluding the words: 'to assessing whether it would be justified'

Second part: those words

Wednesday 16 January 2019

PPE:

§ 43

First part: 'Stresses that scientific peer-reviewed open literature, where available,'

Second part: 'should be given the equivalent weight in the assessment as GLP-based studies; considers that they are both valid as contributions to the assessment and'

Third part: 'should be weighted according to the relative quality of the studies and their relevance to the application under consideration;'

Recital AY

First part: 'whereas the credibility of the Union authorisation system for plant protection products strongly depends on public trust in EFSA, which provides the scientific opinions that are the basis for decisions with regard to food safety in Europe;'

Second part: 'whereas the decreasing public trust in EFSA is a concern;'

Recital CH

First part: 'whereas recent reports have highlighted significant declines in biodiversity with regard to birds and insects, in particular bees and other pollinators; whereas, in the last 27 years, a decline of over 75 % in total flying insect biomass in protected areas has been observed'

Second part: 'whereas agricultural intensification (e.g. pesticide usage, year-round tillage, increased use of fertilisers and frequency of agronomic measures), which was not incorporated in that analysis, may form a plausible cause; whereas agricultural intensification has been associated with an overall decline in biodiversity in plants, insects, birds and other species;'

Third part: 'whereas biodiversity and robust ecosystems are of fundamental importance, particularly bees and other pollinating insects, to ensure a healthy and sustainable agricultural sector;'

amendment 1

First part: Text as a whole excluding the word: 'dwellings'

Second part: those words

amendment 45

First part: 'whereas risks are identified by EFSA in its conclusions on active substances, but the Commission often leaves risk mitigation measures to the Member States, which have expertise relevant to country-specific needs, notwithstanding the possibility granted to it under the Regulation to impose them at EU level; whereas this approach was condemned by the European Ombudsman in her decision in case 12/2013/MDC;'

Second part: 'whereas the Ombudsman declared that her understanding is that the exact definition of mitigation measures should be left to national authorities, in an acknowledgement that this is the most appropriate level for ensuring that such measures are adapted to specific land, soil and climate conditions and local agricultural practices;'

amendment 92

First part: 'Calls on the Commission, in accordance with its resolution of 15 February 2017 on low-risk pesticides of biological origin and its resolution of 13 September 2018 on the implementation of the Regulation, to submit a specific legislative proposal to amend the Regulation outside of the ongoing REFIT procedure, with a view to enabling a rigorous high-quality evaluation, authorisation and registration process;'

Second part: 'stresses that plant protection products of biological origin should be subject to the same rigorous evaluations as other substances;'

amendment 4

First part: ‘Takes note that the Commission considers that the Agreement has contributed to the modernisation and diversification of exports from Colombia and Peru and that it has had a positive impact on Colombian and Peruvian SMEs,’

Second part: ‘but observes that figures relating to volumes and job creation are very low, and recalls that similar progress took place in previous periods; calls on the Commission to include the situation of the local industries and economic diversification in its future analysis; points out that the Agreement has the potential to make greater contributions to the development of the Colombian and Peruvian start-up scenes, in particular as regards the region’s entrepreneurial communities in urban hubs such as Bogotá, Medellín and Lima; stresses, however, that more needs to be done in terms of diversification of exports away from traditional mineral, oil and agricultural products, which account for up to 70 % of exports by volume, and towards the export of processed goods and products with greater added value, to support economic development and job creation, with full respect for environmental standards and human rights;’

Recital F:

First part: 'whereas women and girls in the EU experience structural gender inequality in a variety of forms and in a range of settings — including gender discrimination, sexual harassment, gender-based violence and misogynistic hate speech — which severely limits their ability to enjoy their rights and participate on an equal footing in society; whereas in 2017, the #MeToo movement raised awareness of the scale and intensity of the sexual harassment and sexual and gender-based violence that women face; whereas the #MeToo movement resulted in some positive momentum for gender equality, but cases of sexual harassment and sexual and gender-based violence are still widespread; whereas in recent years reports have pointed out a growing backlash against women's rights and gender equality in the EU;'

Second part: 'whereas women in the Union are not equal before the right to abortion owing to differing policies and legislation across Member States;'

First part: 'Points out that improving the quality, independence and efficiency of national justice systems, in particular with regard to judges, prosecutors and lawyers, remains a key priority of the European Union;'

Second part: 'stresses that there is an urgent need to introduce a gender-sensitive perspective into the Member States' legal and judicial systems, including the development and institutionalisation of the gender component through training programmes for all judiciary staff;'

Monica Macovei (ECR Group) had also signed joint motion for a resolution RC-B8-0056/2019.

Rebecca Harms had moved the following oral amendments to recitals B and C.

'B. whereas Mr Huseynov, who is due to be released in March 2019, is facing a possible additional prison sentence of 5 to 7 years, on charges of "application of violence not dangerous to life or health to employees of criminal — executive establishments or investigator isolators" under Article 317.2;'

'C. whereas Mr Huseynov is accused of attacking a prison guard to avoid a routine check on 26 December 2018; whereas, following the alleged attack, he was placed in solitary confinement without the right to see his lawyer; whereas on 28 December Mr Huseynov started a hunger strike to protest against these attempts to extend his sentence and the potential new charges; whereas on 30 December the blogger's health condition deteriorated and he fainted; whereas, at the insistence of his relatives, he stopped the dry hunger strike and began to take liquids; whereas on 11 January 2019 the EU Delegation to Azerbaijan was able to visit him and it was confirmed that he was receiving medical assistance;'
