Other information

The PSE Group had withdrawn amendment 22.

With the rapporteur's agreement, Jan Mulder moved an oral amendment to add a new paragraph 39a to read as follows:

Condemns the continuous abduction of civilians and foreign nationals in Chechnya and calls upon all parties concerned to secure the immediate release of all hostages;

The President established that there were no objections to the oral amendment, which was thus incorporated.

The rapporteur had proposed an oral amendment to paragraph 120 as follows:

'... starting by ensuring full freedom of movement, expression and religion for the Venerable Thich Quang Do, who was released in June 2003 but is still subject to strict police controls, and by re-establishing the legitimate status of the banned United Buddhist Church;'

The President established that there was no objection to this amendment.
