1. European Food Authority I

A5-0198/2001

Proposal for a European Parliament and Council regulation laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Authority, and laying down procedures in matters of food safety (COM(2000) 716 – C5-0655/2000 – 2000/0286(COD))

The proposal was amended as follows:

TEXT PROPOSED BY THE COMMISSION ⁽¹⁾	AMENDMENTS BY PARLIAMENT
Amendment 1
Title
Proposal for a regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council regulation laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Authority, and laying down procedures in matters of food safety	Proposal for a European Parliament and Council regulation laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Safety Authority, and laying down procedures in matters of food safety
Amendment 209
Recital 1
(1) The free movement of safe and wholesome food is an essential aspect of the internal market and contributes significantly to the health and well-being of citizens, and to their social and economic interests.	(1) Safe and wholesome food is the fundamental requirement for the health and well-being of citizens, and for their social and economic interests, and contributes significantly to the proper functioning of the internal market.
Amendment 2
Recital 3
(3) The free movement of food within the Community can be achieved only if food safety requirements do not differ significantly from Member State to Member State.	(3) The free movement of food within the Community can be achieved only if food safety requirements do not differ significantly from Member State to Member State. These requirements should also apply to food and feed products imported from third countries.
Amendment 3
Recital 6
(6) In this regard, water is ingested as other foods, thereby contributing to the overall exposure of a consumer to ingested substances, including chemical and microbiological contaminants. It should therefore be considered to be food, without prejudice to the requirements established in Council Directives 80/778/EEC and 98/83/EC on the quality of water intended for human consumption.	(6) In this regard, water is ingested directly or indirectly as other foods, thereby contributing to the overall exposure of a consumer to ingested substances, including chemical and microbiological contaminants. It should therefore be considered to be food, without prejudice to the requirements established in Council Directives 80/778/EEC and 98/83/EC on the quality of water intended for human consumption.

Recital 9

(9) Experience has shown that it is necessary to adopt measures aimed at guaranteeing that only safe food is placed on the market and at ensuring that systems exist to identify and respond to food safety problems in order to ensure the proper functioning of the internal market and to protect human health.

(9) Experience has shown that it is necessary to adopt measures aimed at guaranteeing that only safe food is placed on the market and at ensuring that systems exist to identify and respond to food safety problems in order to ensure the protection of human health and the proper functioning of the internal market.

Amendment 5

Recital 11

(11) In order to ensure the safety of food, it is necessary to consider all aspects of the food production chain as a continuum because each element may have a potential impact on food safety.

(11) In order to ensure the safety of food, it is necessary to consider all aspects of the food production chain as a continuum, from the inputs used in agriculture, through the feeding of animals to the sale of foodstuffs to individuals and the catering industry, because each element may have a potential impact on food safety.

Amendment 6

Recital 12

(12) Experience has shown that for this reason it is necessary to consider the production, manufacture and distribution of feed given to food-producing animals, since the inadvertent or deliberate contamination of feed, and adulteration or fraudulent or other bad practices in relation to it, may give rise to a direct or indirect impact on food safety.

(12) Experience has shown that for this reason it is necessary to consider the production, manufacture, transport and distribution of feed products given to food-producing animals, since the inadvertent or deliberate contamination of feed products, and adulteration or fraudulent or other bad practices in relation to them, may give rise to a direct or indirect impact on food safety.

Amendment 7

Recital 17

(17) It is recognised that scientific risk assessment alone cannot, in some cases, provide all the information on which a risk-management decision should be based, and that other factors relevant to the matter under consideration should legitimately be taken into account including societal, economic, ethical and environmental factors and the feasibility of controls.

(17) It is recognised that scientific risk assessment alone cannot, in some cases, provide all the information on which a risk-management decision should be based, and that other factors relevant to the matter under consideration should legitimately be taken into account including societal, economic, traditional, ethical and environmental factors and the feasibility of controls.

Amendment 8

Recital 18

(18) The precautionary principle has been invoked to ensure health protection in the Community, thereby giving rise to barriers to the free movement of food. By adopting a uniform basis throughout the Community, the possibility of an improper use of this principle is diminished.

(18) The precautionary principle has been invoked to ensure health protection in the Community, thereby giving rise to barriers to the free movement of food. By adopting a uniform basis throughout the Community, the possibility of an improper use of this principle is diminished. In the interests of consumer protection, the precautionary principle should also apply to food and feed products imported from third countries.

Amendment 10

Recital 22a (new)

(22a) In the light of recent food safety scandals, illegal practices which may endanger consumer safety should be reported. Employees and external inspectors should not be penalised for expressing any concerns they may have.

Amendment 202

Recital 29a (new)

(29a) It is necessary to recognise the role of SMEs in maintaining the cultural diversity of food throughout the EU and to underline the need for measures to help SMEs comply with new safety and hygiene rules; these measures should at the same time be designed to safeguard typical local and traditional products often involving specific production and preservation methods.

Amendment 12

Recital 32

(32) The Authority should take on the role of an independent scientific point of reference and in so doing should assist in ensuring the smooth functioning of the internal market. It may be called upon to give opinions on contentious scientific issues, thereby enabling Member States to take informed risk-management decisions necessary to ensure food safety whilst helping avoid the fragmentation of the internal market through the adoption of unjustified or unnecessary obstacles to the free movement of food.

(32) The Authority should take on the role of an independent scientific point of reference and in so doing should assist in ensuring the smooth functioning of the internal market. It may be called upon to give opinions on contentious scientific issues, thereby enabling Member States to take informed risk-management decisions necessary to ensure food safety and food hygiene whilst helping avoid the fragmentation of the internal market through the adoption of unjustified or unnecessary obstacles to the free movement of food.

Recital 33

(33) The Authority's role as an independent scientific point of reference means that a scientific opinion may be requested not only by the Commission, but also by the European Parliament and the Member States or a competent national body. Steps should also be taken to help avoid conflicting scientific opinions and, in the event of conflicting scientific opinions between several scientific bodies, procedures should be in place to solve the conflict or provide the risk managers with a transparent basis of scientific information.

(33) The Authority's role as an independent scientific point of reference means that a scientific opinion may be requested not only by the Commission, but also by the European Parliament and the Member States or a competent national body, both before and during the legislative process. Steps should also be taken to help avoid divergent scientific opinions and, in the event of divergent scientific opinions between several scientific bodies, procedures should be in place to solve the conflict or provide the risk managers with a transparent basis of scientific information.

Amendment 14

Recital 34

(34) The Authority should be an independent source of information and risk communication in order to improve consumer confidence.

(34) The Authority should be an independent source of information and risk communication in order to improve consumer confidence. Therefore the link between risk assessment and risk management should be strengthened.

Amendment 15

Recital 35

(35) A system for rapid alert already exists in the framework of Council Directive 92/59/EEC of 29 June 1992 on general product safety. The scope of the existing system includes food and industrial products but not feed. Recent food crises have demonstrated the need to set up an improved and broadened rapid alert system covering food and feed. This revised system should be operated by the Authority. The system should not cover the early exchange of information in the event of a radiological emergency established in Council Decision 87/600/Euratom.

(35) A system for rapid alert already exists in the framework of Council Directive 92/59/EEC of 29 June 1992 on general product safety. The scope of the existing system includes food and industrial products but not feed products. Recent food crises have demonstrated the need to set up an improved and broadened rapid alert system covering food and feed products. This revised system should be operated by the Authority, with ultimate responsibility resting with the Commission. The system should not cover the early exchange of information in the event of a radiological emergency established in Council Decision 87/600/Euratom.

Amendment 16

Recital 39a (new)

(39a) The Authority should contribute, on the basis of its opinions, to the Community's role in the development and establishment of international food safety standards and trade agreements with the objective of promoting free world trade in food products which meet internationally agreed and acceptable safety standards.

Amendment 17

Recital 41

(41) It is necessary to ensure that there is effective monitoring of the Authority by the various Community institutions involved, and for this purpose its Management Board should include four representatives appointed by the European Parliament, four by the Council, and four by the Commission. The Management Board should have the necessary powers to establish the budget, check its implementation, draw up internal rules, adopt financial regulations, appoint members of the Scientific Committee and Scientific Panels and appoint the Executive Director.

Deleted

Amendment 18

Recital 42

(42) It is necessary to build up a relationship of confidence and transparency with the general public, and therefore the Management Board should include four representatives of consumers and industry.

(42) It is necessary to build up a relationship of confidence and transparency with the general public, and therefore the Management Board should include persons with experience of food and feed production, processing and retailing, as well as persons with experience of working for consumer organisations.

Amendment 19

Recital 49

(49) The establishment of the Authority should enable Member States to become more closely involved in scientific procedures; there should therefore be close cooperation between the Authority and the Member States for this purpose. In particular, the Authority should be able to assign certain tasks to organisations in the Member States.

(49) The establishment of the Authority should enable Member States to become more closely involved in scientific procedures; there should therefore be close cooperation between the Authority and the Member States for this purpose. In particular, the Authority should be able to assign certain tasks to authorised competent organisations in the Member States.

Amendment 20

(50) It is necessary to ensure that a balance is struck between the use of national organisations carrying out tasks for the Authority and the need to ensure for the purposes of overall consistency that such tasks are carried out in line with the criteria established for such tasks for the Authority. Existing procedures for the allocation of scientific tasks to the Member States, in particular with regard to the evaluation of dossiers presented by industry for the authorisation of certain substances, products or procedures, should be re-examined within a year to take into account the establishment of the Authority and the new facilities it offers.

(50) It is necessary to ensure that a balance is struck between the use of national authorised competent organisations carrying out tasks for the Authority and the need to ensure for the purposes of overall consistency that such tasks are carried out in line with the criteria established for such tasks for the Authority. Existing procedures for the allocation of scientific tasks to the Member States, in particular with regard to the evaluation of dossiers presented by industry for the authorisation of certain substances, products or procedures, should be re-examined within a year to take into account the establishment of the Authority and the new facilities it offers. However, such scrutiny should remain at least as stringent as current procedures.

Recital 51

(51) The independence of the Authority and its role in informing the public mean that it should be able to communicate autonomously in the fields falling within its competence, its purpose being to provide objective, reliable and easily understandable information. However, the Commission remains fully responsible for communicating risk management measures; the appropriate information should therefore be exchanged between the Authority and the Commission.

Amendment 22

Recital 51a (new)

(51a) The Commission remains fully responsible for communicating risk management measures; the appropriate information should therefore be exchanged between the Authority and the Commission.

Amendment 23

Recital 54

lation. The Community budgetary procedure remains applicable as far as any subsidies chargeable to the general budget of the Communities are concerned; moreover, the auditing of accounts should be undertaken by the Court of Auditors.

Amendment 24

Recital 56

(56) Recent food safety incidents have demonstrated the need to establish appropriate measures in emergency situations ensuring that all foods, whatever their type and origin, should be subject to common measures in the event of a serious risk to human health. Such a comprehensive approach to emergency food safety measures should allow effective action to be taken and avoid artificial disparities in the treatment of food representing a serious risk to human health.

(56) Recent food safety incidents have demonstrated that the Commission has been unable to react in an effective and expedient manner and that there is a clear need to establish appropriate measures in emergency situations ensuring that all foods, whatever their type and origin, should be subject to common measures in the event of a risk to human health. Such a comprehensive approach to emergency food safety measures should facilitate effective action and avoid artificial disparities in the treatment of food representing a risk to human health.

Recital 57

(57) Recent food crises have also shown the benefits to the Commission of having properly adapted, more rapid procedures for crises management. These organisational procedures should make it possible to improve coordination of effort and to determine the most effective measures on the basis of the best scientific information; therefore, revised procedures should take into account the Authority's responsibilities and should provide for its scientific and technical assistance in the event of a food crisis.

(57) Recent food crises have also shown the benefits to the Commission of having properly adapted, more rapid procedures for crises management. These organisational procedures should make it possible to improve coordination of effort and to determine the most effective measures on the basis of the best scientific information; therefore, revised procedures should take into account the Authority's responsibilities and should provide for its scientific and technical assistance in the form of advice in the event of a food crisis.

Amendment 26

Article 1, paragraph 1

1. This Regulation provides the basis for the assurance of a high level of protection of human life and health and consumers' interest in relation to food, whilst ensuring the effective functioning of the internal market. It establishes common principles, definitions and responsibilities, a strong science base, efficient organisational arrangements and procedures to underpin decision-making in matters of food safety.

1. This Regulation provides the basis for the assurance of a high level of protection of human health and consumers' interest in relation to food, whilst ensuring the effective functioning of the internal market geared towards quality and diversity in the supply of food, without therefore penalising typical or traditional products. It establishes common principles, definitions and responsibilities, a strong science base, efficient organisational arrangements and procedures to underpin decision-making in matters of food safety and food quality.

Amendment 49

Article 5, paragraph 1

1. Food law shall pursue one or more of the general objectives of the protection of human life, health or safety, the protection of consumers' interests, and other objectives, including, where appropriate, the protection of the environment, the protection of animal health, life and welfare and the protection of plant health and life.

1. Food law shall pursue one or more of the general objectives of the protection of human life, health or safety, the protection of consumers' interests, and other objectives, including, where appropriate, measures to combat food fraud, the protection of the environment, the protection of animal health, life and welfare and the protection of plant health.

Amendment 50

Article 5, paragraph 1a (new)

1a. Food law is one of the instruments available to the Community for developing the European food model on the basis of the principles of quality, diversity and safety.

Amendment 51

Article 5, paragraph 2a (new)

2a. Food law shall aim to ensure that the same regulations, in respect of chemical and antibiotic use, are applied to aquaculture products imported into the EU as are applied to Community-produced products.

Amendment 52

Article 5, paragraph 3

3. Where international standards exist or their completion is imminent, they shall be taken into consideration in the development or adaptation of food law, except where such standards or relevant parts would be an ineffective or inappropriate means for the fulfilment of the legitimate objectives of food law or there is a scientific justification, or where they would result in a different level of protection than the one determined as appropriate in the Community.

3. Where international standards exist or their completion is imminent, they shall be complied with in the development or adaptation of food law, except where they would result in a lower level of protection than the one determined as appropriate in the Community.

Amendment 53

Article 6, paragraph 1

1. Food law shall aim to achieve a high level of health protection, and shall be based on risk analysis except where this is not appropriate to the circumstances or the nature of the measure.

1. Food law shall aim to achieve a high level of health protection, and shall be based on risk analysis except in the case of measures intended to correct misleading information and eliminate packaging which may be harmful to the consumer.

Amendment 54

Article 6, paragraph 3

3. Risk management shall take into account the results of risk assessment, and in particular, the opinions of the European Food Authority established in Article 21, and other factors as legitimate to the matter under consideration.

3. Risk management shall take into account the results of risk assessment, and in particular, the opinions of the European Food Authority established in Article 21, and other international legitimate factors relevant to the protection of human health.

TEXT PROPOSED
BY THE COMMISSIONAMENDMENTS
BY PARLIAMENT

Amendment 55

Article 7, paragraph 1

1. In those specific circumstances where, following an assessment of available pertinent information, a risk to health is identified but scientific uncertainty persists, provisional risk management measures necessary to ensure the high level of health protection chosen in the Community may be adopted, pending further scientific information for a more comprehensive risk assessment.

1. In those specific circumstances where, following an assessment of available pertinent information, a risk or potential risk to health, either from products from Member States or products imported from third countries, is identified but scientific uncertainty persists, provisional risk management measures necessary to ensure the high level of health protection chosen in the Community shall be adopted by the appropriate public authorities, pending further scientific information for a more comprehensive risk assessment.

Amendment 56

Article 7, paragraph 2

2. Measures adopted on the basis of paragraph 1 shall be proportionate and no more restrictive of trade than is required to achieve the high level of health protection chosen in the Community, regard being had to technical and economic feasibility and other factors regarded as legitimate in the matter under consideration. The measures shall be reviewed within a reasonable period of time, depending on the nature of the risk to life or health identified and the type of scientific information needed to clarify the scientific uncertainty and to conduct a more comprehensive risk assessment.

2. Measures adopted on the basis of paragraph 1:
- (a) shall presuppose examination of the benefits and costs of action and lack of action;
 - (b) shall be proportionate to the level of protection sought;
 - (c) shall not, when they are implemented, cause discrimination;
 - (d) shall be consistent with measures already adopted in similar situations or using similar approaches;
 - (e) shall be reconsidered and, if necessary, modified on the basis of the results of scientific research and monitoring of their impact.

Amendment 57

Article 8, paragraph 1, point (-a) (new)

- (-a) the placing on the market of unsafe food, as defined in Article 12;

Amendment 58

Article 9, paragraph 1

1. The traceability of food, feed, food-producing animals, and any other substance intended to be, or expected to be incorporated into a food or feed shall be established at all stages of production and distribution, where necessary under the conditions laid down pursuant to paragraph 5.

1. The traceability of food, feed products, food-producing animals, and any other substance intended to be, or expected to be incorporated into a food or feed product shall be established at all stages of production, processing and distribution, where necessary under the conditions laid down pursuant to paragraph 5.

Amendment 59

Article 9, paragraph 2, subparagraph 2a (new)

Farmers shall have at their disposal, in the form of clear and comprehensive labelling, full details of the products and additives to be found in animal feed products.

Amendment 60

Article 9, paragraph 4

4. Food or feed which is placed on the market or is likely to be placed on the market in the Community shall be adequately labelled or identified to facilitate their traceability, in accordance with the relevant requirements of more specific provisions.

4. Food or feed products which are placed on the market or are likely to be placed on the market in the Community shall be adequately labelled or identified to facilitate their traceability, through relevant documentation or information, so as to facilitate withdrawal and recall.

Amendment 61

Article 10, paragraph 1

1. Food and feed business operators at all stages of production and distribution within the businesses under their control shall ensure that foods or feeds satisfy the relevant requirements of food law and shall put in place systems and procedures to verify and monitor that such requirements are met.

1. Food and feed product business operators at all stages of production and distribution shall ensure that the businesses under their control apply, to any food or feed product, the requirements of food law relevant to their activities and shall put in place systems and procedures to verify and monitor that such requirements are met. Similarly, producers of feed products for consumption on their own holding shall comply with the appropriate legislation on feed.

Amendment 62

Article 10, paragraph 2, subparagraph 1

2. Member States shall enforce food law, and monitor and verify that the relevant requirements of food law are fulfilled by food and feed business operators at all stages of production and distribution.

2. Member States shall enforce food law, and monitor and verify that the relevant requirements of food law are fulfilled by food and feed product business operators at all stages of production and distribution, regardless of whether the food is intended for the Community market or for export to third countries.

Amendment 63

Article 10, paragraph 2, subparagraph 2a (new)

Member States shall ensure confidentiality at all stages (during official controls and in particular during the monitoring process) of information obtained and conveyed in the development or enforcement of food law.

Amendment 65

Article 12, paragraph 4, point (c)

(c) to the particular sensitivities of a specific category of consumers where the food is intended for that category of consumers.

(c) to the particular health sensitivities of a specific category of consumers where the food is intended for that category of consumers.

Amendment 66

Article 12, paragraph 7

7. Food that complies with specific Community provisions of food law shall be deemed to be safe insofar as the aspects covered by the specific Community provisions are concerned.

7. Food that complies with specific Community provisions governing food safety shall be deemed to be safe insofar as the aspects covered by the specific Community provisions are concerned.

Amendment 67

Article 12, paragraph 8

8. Where there are no specific Community provisions, food shall be deemed to be safe when it conforms to the specific provisions of national food law of the Member State in whose territory the food is in circulation, such provisions being drawn up and applied without prejudice to the Treaty, and in particular Articles 28 and 30 thereof.

8. Where there are no specific Community provisions, food shall be deemed to be safe when it conforms to the specific provisions of national food law of the Member State in whose territory the food is in circulation, bearing in mind Europe's rich heritage of traditional local foods and methods of preparation, such provisions being drawn up and applied without prejudice to the Treaty, and in particular Articles 28 and 30 thereof. Where food proves to pose a risk despite compliance with Community and national provisions, the principle referred to in paragraph 1 shall apply.

Amendment 68

Article 13, paragraph 3

3. Where a feed which has been identified as not satisfying the feed safety requirement is part of a batch, lot or consignment of feed of the same class or description, it shall be presumed that all of the feed in that batch, lot or consignment is so affected, unless following a detailed assessment there is no evidence that the rest of the batch, lot or consignment fails to satisfy the feed safety requirement.

3. Where a feed product which has been identified as not satisfying the feed product safety requirement is part of a batch, lot or consignment of feed products of the same class or description, it shall be presumed that all of the feed products in that batch, lot or consignment are so affected, unless following a detailed assessment there is no evidence that the rest of the batch, lot or consignment fails to satisfy the feed product safety requirement. That batch, lot or consignment shall systematically be destroyed.

Amendment 69

Article 14, paragraph 1

1. Food business operators shall ensure that all stages of production and distribution under their control are carried out in such a manner that food complies with the relevant provisions of food law, and in particular, food safety.

1. Food business operators shall, in so far as they are able, ensure at each stage of production, transport or distribution that food placed on the market complies with the relevant provisions of food law, and in particular, food safety.

Amendment 70

Article 14, paragraph 2

2. A food business operator shall immediately inform the competent authorities if he considers or suspects that a food which it has placed on the market may be potentially injurious to human health. The operators shall inform the competent authorities of the action taken to prevent risks to the final consumer.

2. A food business operator shall immediately inform the competent authorities if he considers or suspects that a food which it has placed on the market may be potentially injurious to human health. Employees who become aware of possible risks concerning the safety of food shall not be penalised for informing the relevant authorities. Persons who, by virtue of their professional activities, consider or suspect that a food placed on the market may be potentially injurious to human health shall also provide such information without detriment to their employment. The operators shall inform the competent authorities of the action taken to prevent risks to the final consumer.

Amendment 71

Article 14, paragraph 3

3. Food business operators shall collaborate with the competent authorities according to the requests of the latter, on action taken to avoid risks posed by a food which they supply or have supplied.

3. Food business operators shall collaborate with the competent authorities according to the requests of the latter, on action taken to avoid or reduce risks posed by a food which they supply or have supplied.

Amendment 72

Article 14, paragraph 4a (new)

4a. Food business operators, being at the very earliest stage of the food chain, shall ensure that all stages of production and distribution under their control are carried out in such a manner that their produce complies with the relevant provisions of food and agricultural law and, in particular, food safety.

A food business operator shall immediately inform the competent authorities if he considers or suspects that any of his produce which has been placed on the market has the potential to be injurious to public health. This is particularly important in the case of notifiable and other contagious animal diseases.

Food business operators shall collaborate with the competent authorities in order to ensure that public health is protected.

Amendment 73

Article 14, paragraph 5, subparagraph 1

5. A food business operator responsible for import, retail or distribution activities which do not affect the packaging, labelling, safety or integrity of the food shall act with due care to help ensure compliance with the food safety requirements.

5. A food business operator responsible for import, retail or distribution activities which do not affect the packaging, labelling, safety or integrity of the food shall take the necessary precautions within its area of responsibility to ensure compliance with the food safety requirements.

Amendment 74

Article 14, paragraph 5a (new)

5a. Subject to the extent of their respective activities, food business operators who have imported, produced, processed, transported, manufactured or distributed foodstuffs which do not comply with the relevant food law provisions, and thus endanger food safety, shall be held responsible for the direct short, medium and long-term consequences for human health.

Amendment 75

Article 15, paragraph 2, subparagraph 1

2. A feed business operator shall immediately inform the competent authorities if it considers or suspects that a feed which it placed on the market may not satisfy the feed safety requirements. It shall inform the competent authorities of the action taken to prevent risk arising from the use of that feed.

2. A feed product business operator shall immediately inform the competent authorities if it considers or suspects that a feed product which it placed on the market may not satisfy the feed product safety requirements. It shall inform the competent authorities of the action taken to prevent risk arising from the use of that feed product. Employees who become aware of possible risks concerning the safety of feed products shall not be penalised for informing the relevant authorities. Persons who, by virtue of their professional activities, consider or suspect that a feed product placed on the market may be potentially injurious to human health shall also provide such information without detriment to their employment.

Amendment 76

Article 15, paragraph 5, subparagraph 1

5. A feed business operator responsible for import, retail or distribution activities which do not affect the packaging, labelling, safety or integrity of the feed, shall act with due care to help ensure compliance with the feed safety requirements.

5. A feed product business operator responsible for import, retail or distribution activities which do not affect the packaging, labelling, safety or integrity of the feed product, shall take the necessary precautions within its area of responsibility to ensure compliance with the feed product safety requirements.

Amendment 77

Article 15, paragraph 5a (new)

5a. Subject to the extent of their respective activities, operators in the animal feed product sector who have imported, produced, processed, transported, manufactured or distributed feed products which do not comply with the requirements laid down concerning the safety of animal feed products and which thus endanger food safety shall be held responsible for the direct short, medium and long-term consequences for human and animal health.

- be cost-effective and enable the Authority to start its work immediately;
- provide for the necessary social infrastructure for the staff of the Authority.

Amendment 189

Article 64

Existing food law shall continue to apply until amended to ensure conformity with the provisions laid down in Chapters I and II.

To the extent necessary, existing food law shall be amended to ensure conformity with the provisions laid down in Chapters I and II.

European Parliament legislative resolution on the proposal for a European Parliament and Council regulation laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Authority, and laying down procedures in matters of food safety (COM(2000) 716 – C5-0655/2000 – 2000/0286(COD))

(Codecision procedure: first reading)

The European Parliament,

- having regard to the Commission proposal to the European Parliament and the Council and the amendments to the proposal (COM(2000) 716) ⁽¹⁾,
- having regard to Articles 251(2), 37, 95, 133 and 152(4) of the EC Treaty, pursuant to which the Commission submitted the proposal to Parliament (C5-0655/2000),
- having regard to Rule 67 of its Rules of Procedure,
- having regard to the report of the Committee on the Environment, Public Health and Consumer Policy and the opinions of the Committee on Budgets, the Committee on Budgetary Control, the Committee on Legal Affairs and the Internal Market, the Committee on Industry, External Trade, Research and Energy, the Committee on Agriculture and Rural Development and the Committee on Fisheries (A5-0198/2001),

1. Approves the Commission proposal as amended but considers that the financing for the Authority should only be transferred from the reserve once a satisfactory solution for both its location and effective operation has been agreed;

2. Notes that this is a new action for which financing is not foreseen in the current budget; considers that the financial statement of the proposal for a regulation put forward by the Commission is not compatible with the ceilings of heading 3 of the current Financial Perspective without a revision or a reduction of other policies;

3. Asks to be consulted again should the Commission intend to amend the proposal substantially or replace it with another text;

4. Instructs its President to forward its position to the Council and Commission.
